

Broken Rail Wrecks Milwaukee Train; One Dead, 65 Injured

SAUKVILLE, Wis. — (AP) — A speeding passenger train hurtled into a ditch four miles north of here last night when a rail broke. One passenger was killed and more than 65 injured.

Attendants at St. Alphonsus hospital at Port Washington said 16 persons remained hospitalized today while "more than 50" were treated and then released following the crash.

The train, the Milwaukee road's Chippewa Hiawatha, was en route to Milwaukee from Ontonagon, Mich.

Saukville is some 30 miles north of Milwaukee.

The dead man was E. J. Synnott, about 50, of Rib Lake, Wis., whose crushed body was found beneath an overturned coach. He had been tossed through a window and beneath the coach as it rolled.

Only the engine and a baggage car remained upright as the train catapulted into the ditch. Three coaches, the diner and a parlor car rolled completely over. The cold,

Ford Speeding Up Production

Six-Day Week Starts In 17 Factories

DETROIT — (AP) — Bent on getting nearly a million cars, trucks and tractors off its assembly lines in the first half of 1950, the Ford Motor Co. is boosting the work for many of its employees.

As part of this, 15,000 workers at the Key Rouge Plant are going on a six-day week.

The move affects workers at 17 factories — including the Rouge and Highland Park Plants here and plants at Chester, Pa., Long Beach, Calif., and Chicago. Ford's total employment is about 706,000.

Ford also announced record January production. That, together with its outline of ambitious plans for the next few months, came as one major competitor in the auto industry — Chrysler Corp. — was shut down indefinitely by a strike.

Several weeks ago Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Empire, said the company was gunning for nearly 1,000,000 vehicles in the first six months of this year. The assembly lines backed him up by turning out 148,393 in January, the biggest monthly total in Ford history.

On Jan. 31 there were 7,220 vehicles made — a daily record. Now, if coal and steel shortages don't upset their plans, Ford officials are aiming at 8,000 units a day. To make the goal, the company plans to pay out a good chunk of overtime.

Big Mo Grounding Investigation Begins

NORFOLK, Va. — (AP) — The navy begins its official investigation today of the Jan. 17 grounding of the battleship Missouri on a Hampton Roads shoal.

A court of inquiry convenes at Norfolk naval base at 1 p. m. It will be open to the public.

The naval experts who yanked the mighty Mo off her mudbank Wednesday blamed a sunken ship for the 12-foot gash inflicted on the battleship's bottom — the only damage she sustained which will require repairs. Navy spokesmen said at the Norfolk naval yards at Portsmouth, where the ship was taken, that she will be ready for sea duty in five to seven days.

Tough Decision Comes Up For John L. Lewis

Strike Leader Faces Truman Deadline

By HAROLD W. WARD
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Major coal operators' acceptance of President Truman's 70-day strike truce proposal confronted John L. Lewis today with one of the toughest decisions of a turbulent career.

The canny labor chief must decide by tomorrow whether to accept President Truman's proposal for a fact-finding board in the bitter soft coal contract battle.

Acceptance might mean the loss of Lewis' strongest bargaining weapon — the nation's dwindling reserves of above-ground coal. Mr. Truman wants "normal production" during the board investigation.

Refusal to accept could bring on labor-hated injunctions under the Taft-Hartley law. Mr. Truman reiterated yesterday that he is ready to use this power whenever he feels an emergency exists.

The next move in the coal controversy was checked to Lewis as a result of two steps taken yesterday by northern and western operators.

First the operators, representing one-half of the soft coal industry, abruptly walked out of negotiations with the United Mine Workers leader.

Then they notified Mr. Truman they were ready to accept his proposal and would prepare the mines for normal output. Southern operators and officials of steel company captive mines were expected to follow suit before the Saturday deadline set by Mr. Truman for an answer.

Both operators and union leaders made bitter accusations regarding the breakdown of the negotiations.

Operators said the negotiations were useless because Lewis still insists on "controlling production."

A UMW spokesman responded that "The operators are guilty of meeting with the United Mine Workers in bad faith and with no intention of bargaining collectively."

Over 34,000 Homeless In Six Late Floods

(By The Associated Press)

More than 34,000 persons were homeless and other thousands were threatened with evacuation today as flood dangers appeared mounting in six central and southern states.

Floodwaters of surging streams, including the big Ohio river, have forced hundreds of families to flee their homes in Arkansas, Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee and Ohio. Rising streams also menaced parts of Indiana. Many schools were closed and highways blocked in some parts of the watershed.

In Arkansas alone, the Red Cross said 22,238 persons have been evacuated. An estimated 10,000 have moved from their flooded homes in Kentucky. In West Virginia where three persons have drowned, 100 families have been evacuated. Other evacuations were reported in Tennessee and in Ohio. Some residents in lowland areas in Indiana were endangered by the rising streams.

The Ohio River, past the 52-foot flood stage in Cincinnati, headed for a predicted crest of 60.5 feet about midnight Saturday.

Over 34,000 Homeless In Six Late Floods

Rain, which had doused much of the flood area for the past several days, ended today. But colder weather moved in, adding to the discomfort of the homeless.

The weather bureau reported generally clear weather over most of the country. Temperatures were near normal levels in most areas.

The St. Francis river was on a rampage in eastern Arkansas, and rising streams also were reported in the northern and southern sections of the state. National guardsmen aided in evacuating residents of St. Francis lowlands.

Ice Storm Hits Northern Texas

Damage Over Million To Poles And Wires

DALLAS, Texas. — Telephone and power crews struggled today to correct the havoc of north Texas' ice storm.

They bucked mud, snapped wires and broken poles in an area that stretched from Abilene and Wichita Falls on the west to Paris and Greenville on the east; from Dallas and Fort Worth on the south northward past the Red River into Oklahoma.

The bill for damages from the three day storm will run more than a million dollars.

Fifty-three towns were still without telephone service. A few communities had neither power, light or water supplies, or were served in part with emergency equipment.

At least 27 families were certified for emergency assistance by Fannin County Red Cross chairman J. D. Butler. He estimated the total might reach 50.

Heaviest loss to the ice were telephone and power companies.

Southwestern Bell Telephone company alone estimated its damages would run more than $700,000. It reported ice had broken 812 circuits, 1,400 poles and 20,000 wires.

MARQUETTE LACKS JOBS
MARQUETTE, Mich. — Marquette's jobless total, on the increase since last August, continued up last month, when there were 898 persons registered with the Michigan state employment service office here. 15 more than in December.

Frank B. Paul, manager of the MSES office, estimates that the number of unemployed persons in the district (including those not registered) totals approximately 1,100.

Ingrid Bergman Has A Baby Boy

Looks Like Him, Says Italian Rossellini

ROME — (AP) — Ingrid Bergman, who has announced her intentions to marry Italian film director Roberto Rossellini when she obtains a divorce from Dr. Peter Lindstrom, gave birth to a son last night.

The birth of the child at Rome's Villa Margherita Clinic was confirmed today by Dr. Pier Luigi Guidotti, one of two doctors who assisted at the delivery of the 34-year-old Swedish film actress.

The Rome press, which had reported the birth before Dr. Guidotti's announcement, said both mother and child were in "excellent condition." Rossellini was quoted as saying the baby looked like him.

Two jeepsloads of police were stationed about the hospital, which had appealed for "protection" from newspapermen besieging it.

Miss Bergman sued Dr. Lindstrom, 43-year-old Hollywood surgeon, for divorce in Juarez, Mexico, last week. He is in Hollywood with their daughter, 11-year-old Pia.

Quoting an unnamed friend of Rossellini, the Rome newspaper 11 Messaggero said the baby arrived "three weeks before expectations" but was born "without difficulty" at 7 p. m. yesterday (1 p. m. EST).

11 Messaggero said Miss Bergman went to the Margherita Clinic yesterday at 3 p. m. (9 a. m. EST). Rossellini reportedly was called urgently at 6 p. m., just after his return to Rome from Orisio, near Lake Bracciano, where he is shooting a new picture. He was reported at Miss Bergman's side when the baby was born.

Carstens, veteran of 51 B-17 missions in Europe, reported the takeoffs and landings were "not too bad." The ice was only six inches thick.

It was the 40-mile gusts that made the going "a little rough."

Carstens operates his own plane service. In winter he drives a school bus.

The fishermen were marooned when an offshore wind broke the ice away.

State police passed on the word to Carstens and minutes later he had left his bus driving duties and was hurrying to his plane.

State College Shuts Down Quonset Village

EAST LANSING — (AP) — Michigan State college's quonset village, which has housed more than 6,000 male students since the war years, will be shut down as a housing project, the college announced today.

The 104 steel huts that make up the village will remain standing but will be put to other uses. The huts, which house eight men each, were constructed in 1946 to take care of the overflow of veteran students.

Students living in the huts will be transferred to college dormitories or will be asked to obtain outside housing.

Defense Chief Says U. S. Ready To Lick Hell Out Of Russia

WASHINGTON — (AP) — In some of the toughest language yet used in the coldwar, Secretary of Defense Johnson said last night the U. S. is ready to "lick hell" out of Russia on an hour's notice.

"Joe Stalin will know that if he starts something at four a. m.," Johnson declared, "the fighting power of the United States will be on the job at five a. m."

Johnson's words, delivered to a gathering of 300 fellow alumni of the University of Virginia, were perhaps the sharpest to be aimed at Russia by an American cabinet officer since U. S.-Soviet relations began to sour after World War II.

Speaking from pencilled notes, Johnson said this nation's defense setup is more powerful than it has been since 1945. Then he added:

"In all we are doing, we are seeking peace.

"There is only one nation in the world that would start a war. We seek to have a military establishment sufficient to deter that aggressor and to lick hell out of her if she doesn't stay deterred."

As a result of the unification law, he said, "the defense of the United States is in better shape and stronger than at any time since the point system wrecked it in 1945."

The point system was the method used to discharge service personnel after the war.

Johnson said the country's defenses are getting stronger daily and will soon reach a point where they will be ready for anything in an hour's time.

"In the field," he commented, "the sun shines on unification and the army, navy and air force are ready to go as a team."

"There was no unification at Pearl Harbor," he added, "or Pearl Harbor wouldn't have been."

What's more, Johnson said, he is "not sure peace would last a few hours" today, if Russia considered this country unprepared for war.

Michigan May Dicker For Percy Jones

LANSING — (AP) — A proposal that the state try to pick up Percy Jones hospital at Battle Creek when the Army closes it was telegraphed to Governor Williams today by Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr.

Alger said the 1,000-bed hospital would help the state meet its shortage of mental hospitals beds.

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson announced in Washington D. C., yesterday that the Percy Jones hospital, acquired by the Army from the Kellogg interests in 1942, would be closed as an army institution.

Alger, a Republican often mentioned as a G. O. P. possibility for governor, wired the Democratic governor in Washington at once, proposing that he use his "connections with the federal Democratic regime" to get the institution for the state.

"While I have no intention of adding glory to your political career," Alger telegraphed, "nevertheless, it occurs to me that there is a possibility that should be explored of the state assuming these facilities to relieve what appears to be a critical hospital shortage."

Truman Holds Tax Cuts To 600 Millions

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Snyder told Congress today that "excise tax reduction must be limited to about $600,000,000."

Spelling out details that had been sketched broadly by President Truman on Jan. 23, Snyder outlined the administration's excise (sales) tax reduction program at the opening of House committee tax hearings.

A new ten per cent tax to be levied upon television sets at the manufacturer's level is expected to yield $40,000,000 extra revenue.

This would partly offset total planned reductions in excise taxes of $695,000,000. In his text, however, Snyder used the round figure of $600,000,000.

These excise tax reductions were outlined:

Cutting the 20 per cent retail levies on furs, luggage and women's handbags, jewelry and toilet preparations to ten per cent.

Cutting long distance telephone and telegraph tax charges from 25 to 15 per cent; the tax on rail, bus, airline and ship passenger tickets from 15 to 10 per cent, and repealing outright the three per cent freight haul tax.

Baby Oils Exempt
The administration plan called for flat exemption of "baby oils, powders and lotions" from the tax on toilet preparations. The "baby oil" tax has provoked especially strong objections.

Snyder repeated President Truman's statement that the excise tax cuts must be offset by closing loopholes in other taxes to make up the lost revenue.

Snyder amplified the president's recommendation for getting an extra $1,000,000,000 from the corporation tax.

Woman Killed At Manistique

Auto Hit By Train; Two Badly Injured

Mrs. Clayton Wood, 44, of Route 1, Manistique, was instantly killed and Mrs. Dora Benson, 41, 621 Range Street, and Mrs. Hazel Wood, 45, 418 North Houghton avenue, Manistique, are in the Shaw hospital in serious condition as a result of an accident in which the car in which they were riding was struck by the west bound Soo Line passenger train.

The accident happened about 8 p. m. Thursday as the three women were going south on Houghton avenue, with the train approaching the grade crossing. Mrs. Clayton Wood was driving the car. The flagman, Carl Nelson, stationed at the crossing, sensing imminent danger, frantically waved his flag, but apparently the women did not see him. They had almost crossed the second rail when the train struck.

Although the car was badly wrecked, it is believed that the impact of the train did the most damage as none of the bodies were mangled. Mrs. Wood is discolored, died of a broken neck. The other women are suffering from contusions and possible skull fracture.

The body of Mrs. Wood is at the Kefauver & Jackson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Wood formerly taught school in Manistique township, and was active in the Grange.

Mrs. Wood, the former Miss Nema McCabe, was born Aug. 13, 1906, at Pickford. She came to Manistique to teach as a young woman. Mr. and Mrs. Wood were married Sept. 16, 1925, at Sault Ste. Marie.

The survivors are Mr. Wood and four children, Caroline, Robert, Russell and Douglas, all of the Manistique community.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed today.

Democrats Defeat Excise Tax Slash

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Democrats on the House Ways and Means committee defeated 14 to 10 today a Republican proposal to cut excise taxes immediately and consider other parts of President Truman's tax program later.

A strict party line vote turned down the move by Rep. Woodruff (R-Mich.).

Top Scientist Of Britain Put Under Arrest

German-Born Expert Formerly In U. S.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congress today summoned Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, wartime head of the U. S. atomic bomb project to testify tomorrow about a British atomic scientist arrested in London on suspicion of passing A-bomb secrets to Russia.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) made the announcement after a meeting of the joint Congressional atomic energy committee with the atomic energy commission.

McMahon is chairman of the Congressional group.

Spying In America
A statement by the Atomic Energy Commission said the British scientist, Dr. Klaus Fuchs, had access to "a wide area of the most vital weapons information" during his wartime work in the U. S. on atomic projects.

"It appears to the committee that the matter is serious," McMahon told reporters.

He added in a prepared statement:

"General Leslie R. Groves, commanding officer of the wartime Manhattan district (which developed the A-bomb), will appear before the joint committee tomorrow morning."

The meeting will be held behind closed doors.

In today's hastily called meeting the committee discussed with the AEC "such information as the commission possesses regarding the British scientist, Dr. Klaus Fuchs, who has been arrested in London as a spy," McMahon said.

McMahon promised that the joint committee "will further explore the matter fully."

Two Offenses Listed
Fuchs was accused in London of twice passing atomic secrets to foreign agents — once in the United States in 1945 and again in Britain in 1947. The Federal bureau of investigation here played an important part in digging up information leading to Fuchs' arrest.

Digging into his background, the agents found that Fuchs was naturalized as a British subject in 1942. His father is a college professor now living in the Soviet occupation zone of Germany.

The younger Fuchs originally went to England in 1933 as a student and remained there as an

Telephone Strike May Be Held Up

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Government mediators today fixed a Monday deadline of their own for action in the threatened telephone strike next week.

Cancellation Director Cyrus S. Ching said he will be able to tell by Monday afternoon "whether we are getting anywhere" in efforts to head off the strike of 100,000 Bell system workers set for Wednesday Feb. 8.

A postponement of the strike date might be requested by Ching if he and his aides thought they were making any progress.

Eight of the CIO communications workers divisions are poised to walk out at 6 a. m. local time next Wednesday in a dispute over wages, hours, vacations, pensions, training periods, and local issues.

Changes Made At Paper Mill

New Sizing Press Is Installed

Installation of a size press on the No. 2 machine at the Escanaba Paper company's plant has been announced by E. G. Bennett, manager.

The press will be used mainly in sizing offset printing paper, which now constitutes about 25 per cent of the paper made on the No. 2 machine.

The sizing that this press will apply to the sheet differs in two respects from the rosin type that is now added at the beaters. First the new sizing operation will use a corn starch solution as a sizing material, and secondly this solution will be applied to both sides of the finished sheet of paper by means of a two roll press.

The preparation of the starch solution will be carried out in the color building by new equipment, especially designed for the job and which was installed several months ago.

In order to install the size press it was necessary to remove two dryers, move six other dryers, construct a concrete floor, set up the new equipment, and make numerous piping changes.

Offset printing paper, the type which will be produced on this machine, will be used mainly in the printing of school books, work books, color books and other high grade printing material.

Making Survey Of State Gov't

James T. Jones Is Asked To Assist

DETROIT—Fourteen top Michigan industrialists and four college deans have been invited by the legislative committee on state reorganization to help in making a survey of state government.

The committee also announced plans for a giant press day for Michigan newspaper editors, owners and publishers to place before them its program and to discuss public relations.

Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey, whose state recently completed a reorganization program, and Charles D. Breitler, legal advisor to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, will attend the press program.

Seek Governor's Help
The committee, which hopes to start its surveys of state agencies this week, also will request Democratic Gov. Williams to name a 15-man committee to advise the workers and to order heads of state departments to co-operate with research "task forces."

The committee agreed to ask the legislature March 15 for an extra appropriation of $15,000 for the work. The Earhart foundation of Ann Arbor has donated $5,000 already and will contribute another $5,000 when the legislative grant is made. The bureau of government research will contribute $10,000. Grants are expected from the Kellogg and Kresge foundations.

Invited To Serve
The industrialists who were asked to serve are: Harvey D. Campbell, director of the Detroit Board of Commerce; J. T. Jones of the Marble Arms Manufacturing Co.; Gladstone; Ralph Howard of the Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment Co.; D. C. Fisher, president of the S. S. Kresge Co.; Harlow Curtice, executive vice president of General Motors corporation; Prentiss Brown, chairman of the Detroit Edison Co.; James B. Webber, Jr., of the J. L. Hudson Co.; John S. Coleman, Burroughs Adding Machine Co.; Ernest E. Dole of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.; Dorris Shotwell of Allied Stores, Inc.; Gilbert Currie of the Dow Chemical Co.; Herbert Schmidt, president of the Warren Community bank (Warren township).

The four deans of business administration are: Walter C. Folley of Wayne university; L. E. Fitzgerald, University of Detroit; Edward A. Gee of Michigan State college; Russell A. Stevenson, University of Michigan.

U. P. Dairying Is Important

Horwood Talks At Convention Here

Dairying is the leading agricultural activity in the Upper Peninsula and provides more than fifty per cent of the farm income, Russell E. Horwood Chatham, district extension supervisor, said in a talk at the convention of the Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers association today.

The convention opened at the House of Ludington this morning and will close with a banquet Saturday night.

"There are six major sources of farm income in the Upper Peninsula," Horwood stated. "They are dairy products which make up $18,400,000 or 50.8 per cent; farm crops, $6,783,000 or 19.3 per cent; livestock, $5,436,000 or 14.5 per cent; farm forest products, $2,777,000 or 7.8 per cent; poultry and poultry products, $2,018,000 or 5.6 per cent; and horticulture, $900,000 or 2.0 per cent of the total."

"Dairying is way out in front with approximately 50 per cent of the total income. To this could be added most of the sale of livestock. This would add another 14.5 per cent."

"There are 143 dairy plants in the area. They processed over two million pounds of butter, 15 1/2 million pounds of American cheese, over one million pounds of Italian cheese, over 32 million pounds of condensed milk, nearly a million gallons of ice cream and over 60 million pounds of whole milk in 1948."

Other Speakers
Other speakers on today's program were Glen C. Weld, Bridgman-Russell company, Duluth; William H. Pauly, of Pauly Cheese company, Green Bay; Leonard N. Francke, executive secretary, Michigan Milk Dealers association, Lansing; and Dr. G. M. Trout, professor of dairy manufacturing, Michigan State College.

The convention delegates and their wives will attend a smorgasbord supper and dance this evening.

Saturday's Program
Election of officers will be held at the business session Saturday morning. Present officers are: President, William Plansky, Escanaba; vice president, Walter Nelson, Manistique; and secretary-treasurer, O'Neill D'Amour, Gladstone.

Speakers at the Saturday morning panel discussion will be: Don Murray, Michigan State College; "Laboratory and Field Problems of Conducting the Ring Test for Bangs Disease."

George McIntyre, Michigan Department of Agriculture, "The State and Federal Program on Ring Test for Bangs Disease."

William Lutz, Upper Peninsula extension dairy specialist, "Continuation of Envelope Stuffer and Producer Information Program."

F. M. Skiver, chief of the bureau of dairying, will preside at the discussion.

The afternoon will be devoted to winter sports and other recreation. Dr. G. M. Trout of Michigan State College will be the principal speaker at the Saturday evening banquet, at which Harold P. Lindsay of Escanaba will be the toastmaster. The Wolverine trophy will be awarded to the dairy plant showing the greatest improvement the past year. There will be singing by the Barber Shop group.

Tulip Festival To Open May 17

Holland Planning Annual Event

HOLLAND, Mich.—Tulip Time in Holland, Michigan this year will open Wednesday, May 17 and continue through Saturday, May 20 it was announced today by Carroll C. Crawford, President of Tulip Time Festival, Inc.

"It's Tulip Time in Holland Every Year in May" is the time-honored slogan which introduces this festival, one of the unique events of the entire nation. In making the announcement of the dates, Mr. Crawford revealed the amount of study required for their selection. First a careful survey was made of previous Tulip Time records to determine the time tulips bloomed in past years. Not content with this, the committee huddled with four renowned authorities: Parks Superintendent, Dick Smallegange, and nurserymen, Harry Nells, Chris Van Bragt and Dick Zwisp. These men are experts on tulip culture and Mr. Nells' blooming records go back more than two decades. According to Nells, tulips, during all these 20 years, have been in bloom between May 15 and May 20.

Weather is an important factor in determining when the blooms will be at their best and scarcely a season comes without committee members spending anxious days pouring over weather forecasts. As a precaution against disappointing the thousands of visitors who gravitate to Holland, Michigan in mid-May the festival committee plants both early and late blooming varieties. In general an early spring is preferred because tulips last for two or three weeks and thus assure them

Shame Heaped Upon Our Navy

Mighty Mo Incident Was Last Straw

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—It is highly possible that the air force public relations people shoved that mud-bank in the path of the Mighty Mo, because no more perfect sign-off to a disastrous 12 months could have been wished upon my alma mater. I suppose services, like people, get star-crossed in given years, and this past tour of duty just wasn't meant for the navy to get fat on.

You know those days when you get up mad, with your face sleep-wrinkled and everything you touch turns wrong? That has been the navy since early '49. Just no luck. You bust the mirror and spill the salt. You bet the horse and get beat by a picture finish. You send the pants to the cleaners, and the rent-money is in the watch-pocket.

And then some competent captain, a career boy with admirals' stars in his little beady eyes, has to bog down the big, representative battle-boat on a lousy mud-puddle—where, as H. I. Phillips remarked, it could have been captured by clam-diggers. This could be the crowning catastrophe to a service which has been battling for recognition and reaping only ignominy.

No Greater Sin

In the army there is no sin greater than going to sleep on sentry-duty, and I have no idea what the big sin in the air forces is, unless it is wearing an un-crushed cap. But there is no huger damnation in the navy than running your vessel aground, be it rowboat or carrier.

Roosting her on the rocks, or being blown into a cape is enough to blast everybody concerned. Especially the skipper, because the navy takes the view that the old man is responsible for what happens to his million-dollar baby, drunk or sober, asleep or awake, aboard or ashore. But when you slough the only symbolic battle-wagon on a mudpile... sweet slumbering shade of John Paul Jones!

This past year was the time when our wishful admirals had us a big fat carrier's keel laid.

This was the year of our pop-off guy, John Crommelin, a captain who had a pretty good point but who kept making it so often everybody I know got sick of hearing him holler. 'This was the year when we stage some pretty good maneuvers down in the Caribbean sea and the air force steals our play with a non-stop refuel flight round the globe.

This was the year of the big rascal in Congress, with the navy getting a large chance to talk back and reorganize the combined operation. We knock everything and everybody, real loud, and we view with alarm and downrate the atom bomb, and then we stick our bestest, bestest battle-cart on a stinkin' sandbar.

Blue Suit In Mothballs

Oh, mother, how come I didn't sign on with the infantry? Here I sit with my pretty blue suit in the mothballs, and today I will maybe trade it for that bus drivers costume they just whipped up for the air force. This past milestone was the year they fire Adm. Denfeld for speaking his mind, and put a secretary in to steer the navy that don't know a holystone from an Irish pennant, and then we got to go run a boom-boat named Missouri on a mudbank in the Chesapeake.

Every time somebody pulled or hauled or tugged at the mighty Mo... mighty Schmo, I would call her... you know that all them guys from Missouri sitting in Washington made cracks about us. This is the service that will save the world from atomic destruction. This is now the service that can be captured by infantry, and not even the Japs sank that low.

So I just sit here and bleed for Dartmouth, 1942, and old Capt. Briggs, and navy regs, and Tecumseh at Annapolis, and the spook of John Paul Jones. We ask for bread and they hurl us into a mudbank. Even its severest critic might be prompted to predict that the air force is here to stay, after our operation. Sitting there, like a pig in the mud. Oh, mighty Schmo! You don't even look better in drydock!

ESCANABA extends a hearty welcome today to members of the Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers association, who have arrived here for their annual two-day convention.

The association represents one of the Upper Peninsula's most important and rapidly growing industries. There are about 150 plants, devoted to the production of milk, cheese, butter and other dairy products in the Upper Peninsula. More than nine hundred persons are employed in these plants.

In addition, checks given to Upper Peninsula farmers for milk and cream represent about half of the agricultural income of the region. Income from dairy products, according to government figures, brings about 19 million dollars annually.

The association will award on Saturday night a trophy to the member who made the greatest improvement to his plant during 1949. This is a part of the association's program to promote the quality of the industry's products and services.

Dairy manufacturers produce and distribute milk, butter, cheese and ice cream, all important and essential items in the human diet. The constant effort on the part of this industry to improve the quality of these products is always appreciated by the consuming public.

Electoral College Change Voted

THE United States senate has adopted the proposal to revamp the plan for the election of the president and vice president. The proposal has a long way to go before it is included among the amendments to the constitution for the house of representatives must adopt the measure and three-fourths of the state legislatures must ratify it.

The proposal would abolish the electoral college, and would divide the electoral vote of each candidate in proportion to the popular vote received. Presidential electors would be eliminated, however. The electoral votes, which each state has, would continue to be computed upon the basis of the total number of their senators and representatives in congress.

The present system favors states with small populations. Nevada, for instance, has two senators but not enough population to merit more than one representative. The new plan, proposed by Senator Lodge, Republican, provides that a vote split could be carried out to the third decimal point. It is a compromise between the present electoral college system and the proposals of those who advocate presidential elections by strictly popular vote.

Community College Plan Considered

CITIZENS of Iron Mountain and Kingsford will hold a meeting on Monday evening to discuss a proposal to establish a two-year junior college in that community.

The expansion of the high school curriculum to include the thirteenth and fourteenth grades is a growing trend in many American cities. At present, Ironwood is the only city in the Upper Peninsula having a junior college.

Iron Mountain and Kingsford citizens will give consideration at the Monday meeting to the question of whether the community can financially support the proposed educational program. Money is always an important factor.

The junior college plan has won favor in many cities because it permits high school graduates to remain at home for two years while studying for their college degree. In these times when more and more young people are desirous of higher education it would lessen the financial burden upon the parents.

Many junior colleges are also offering two-year vocational courses for students who do not contemplate going to school for four years for a bachelor's degree. Some prominent educators point out that for some young people the two-year vocational course is the one more suited to their purpose.

The aspirations of citizens of Iron Mountain and Kingsford are of interest to Escanaba people, for it is probable that the junior college idea will be given consideration here after Escanaba's school building program gets under way.

Tourist Council And Fishermen Cooperate

AFTER several conferences, committees representing the Delta County Tourist Council and the commercial fishing industry have reached an agreement on proposed legislation to govern net fishing of walleye pike in Big and Little Bays de Noc.

The gist of this accord is contained in a resolution adopted at the meeting of Delta County Tourist Council in Escanaba Wednesday night.

The resolution urged the immediate passage of emergency legislation to reduce the size of trap nets and to limit to 50 feet the depth at which any net may be set. Use of nets at a greater depth causes the death of undersized fish when lifted from the water, it was pointed out.

Of particular interest to sport fishermen is the section of the resolution requesting the establishment of trolling areas. It reads:

Establish at least three trolling areas of reasonable size, where no nets may be set or maintained from May 21 to October 1 each year, and where sports fishermen may troll during that period without danger of having their lines or bait fouled in nets. Such trolling areas should include at least the following:

1. That part of Big Bay de Noc lying north of a line drawn from Porcupine Point to the mouth of Valentine Creek.

2. That part of Little Bay de Noc lying within one-half mile from shore, between Saunders Point and the Gladstone Yacht Harbor.

3. That part of Little Bay de Noc or Green Bay lying within one and one-half miles from shore, between the mouth of the Ford River and Fishery Point, which is located near the southeast corner of Section 14, Township 38 North, Range 23.

During the last few years, the exceptional walleye fishing on Bays de Noc has attracted sport fishermen from all over the Middle West. It has been responsible for much of the postwar expansion of overnight cabins, boat liversies and resorts in this area. This fine fishing is an asset that should be protected, and it is encouraging to note that both the commercial fishermen and the resort interests are working together on this important matter.

HAYING THE COWS

A fourteen year-old knew he was expected home from district school at a definite time. He could use a few minutes to explore the woods for fox tracks and to see if any milk had traveled along the banks of the creek. It was different in winter than in spring and early fall when the cows were at pasture. Father wanted the cows hayed at the same time every afternoon in winter so the evening chores would follow an exact schedule.

Mr. Webster is very casual about his definition of hay: grass mowed and cured for fodder. After a lad changed into his overalls and jumper, he climbed the ladder to the mow. Icy cold in the hayloft perhaps, but one remembered the stifling heat on a July day when he was storing away as Father pitched off. The huge forkfuls came up with discouraging regularity: before one could push a forkful under the eaves, another was waiting. "Keep the forkfuls together, Son," Father would say. "It will come out a lot easier next winter." But when the temperature was over 100, when sweat was pouring off the end of one's nose and running down the crease of his back, when hayseed infiltrated into socks and around the neck, February seemed a long way off.

Each afternoon sufficient hay had to be pitched down for the evening feeding and for the next morning's. A boy tugged and pulled, strained and lifted to get forkfuls of the long tangled timothy and clover. It took a good 15 or 20 minutes before the pile on the barn floor was large enough. The part that a young farmer enjoyed most was pushing a big heap along the alley between the two rows of stock. The cows mooed impatiently, rattled the stanchions and tossed their heads. They stretched out long, curling tongues for the first mouthful. Six months old calves stuck their heads through the slats of the pen and fastened their big eyes on the approaching food. A man of any age who likes livestock gets a deep satisfaction in feeding them. As boys and men feed the stock, they pause a minute after all animals are eating and watch the friendly creatures that mean a livelihood for a family and food for mankind. Haying the cows is just one of the everyday humble tasks, but boys and men know there's something about it difficult to put into words.—By Haydn Pearson.

KEATING'S PET PEEVE IS HOMOYMOUS WORDS

Richard J. Keating, of Oakland, Calif., comes forward with a Pet Speech Peeve in rhyme for which he will receive an autographed copy of my Practical Handbook of Better English. His peeve is homonyms—words which sound alike but which have different spellings, origins and meanings, such as rite, right, write; rain, rein, reign; air, heir, ere.

The word homonym is from the Greek homos, "the same," plus onoma, "name." Reader Keating's plaintive verse follows:

Chinese Policy Needs Realism

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Policy-makers here will not even attempt to guess when the waiting period on Communist China is to end. The great land mass of China is now entirely controlled by a Communist government and Communist armies. The dust has long since settled.

Yet the outline of a positive policy that will encompass these enormous realities is not in sight. One reason is the deliberately provocative acts of the Communist regime in China, abetted and inspired apparently by Moscow.

The Kremlin does not want United States recognition of China, which would be the first step in a new policy. Neither does an important and highly articulate section of American public opinion.

An unhappy fact in the white China business is the threat of a prolonged and divisive debate within this country. It is already developing into the kind of emotional dispute that has to do not so much with the realities in Asia as with attitudes and opinions here at home. This can mean interminable stalemate and, in the end, a net loss to America.

BULLITT CASE RECALLED

There is a parallel in recent history that should serve as an object lesson. From 1920 to 1933 the debate went on over whether the United States should recognize the Soviet Union. It gathered increasing acrimony and bitterness as the partisans on both sides grew more impassioned.

One of the ardent advocates of recognition was William C. Bullitt whom President Roosevelt sent to Moscow as the first ambassador to Red Russia. The secret reports that Bullitt sent back to the state department when he first went to Russia have just been made available. They throw a significant light on the attitude that Bullitt took with him on his mission.

The highest officials in the Soviet Union set out to woo him with their flattery. At that time Russia wanted to make large purchases in this country in order to push plans for speedy industrialization. His dispatches show that Bullitt, as a long-time advocate of Russian recognition, was a willing recipient of this flattery. Of his reception he noted:

"Kalinin (president of the Soviet all-union central executive committee) was very agreeable to me personally, saying that Lenin had talked to him about me on several occasions, and that he felt as if he were welcoming someone he had known for a long time."

At a dinner in the Kremlin, Bullitt had a long talk with Stalin who told him that although Roosevelt was the "leader of a capitalist nation," he was "one of the most popular men in the Soviet Union." As Bullitt was leaving, Stalin told him he would see him any time of the day or night and finally asked him if there was anything he personally could do to help the new American ambassador.

In the Roosevelt files at Hyde Park, soon to be opened to researchers, are letters Bullitt wrote personally to the late president. These letters are said to go all-out for the Soviet Union, reflecting the flattering attention devoted by Stalin and other members of the Politburo to Bullitt.

BECAME DISILLUSIONED

It was understandable that Bullitt should react in this way. He had worked since World War I to bring about recognition of the Soviet Union. It was also understandable when he became disillusioned and reacted with the same emotionalism against Russia and everything Russian.

When the question of recognition gets tangled up in domestic politics, it is almost bound to take on emotional overtones. The real interests of this country are obscured by pros and cons that have little or nothing to do with America's gain or loss. Earlier recognition of the Soviet Union might have been achieved with less emotionalism if it had been understood that "recognition" is not a moral blessing bestowed on another country but the acknowledgment of a set of facts. We may like or dislike those facts, but there they are.

In his report on his three years as ambassador to Moscow, Lieut. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith does not allow his own feelings to run away with him. Through his useful and important book runs a hard-headed realism that puts the interests of this country first and foremost.

We need more of that kind of realism. The Communists in China may make it impossible to accord recognition to their regime by repeated acts of deliberate defiance. But apart from such a development, a prolonged debate over China that ignores the realities will, in my opinion, do great harm.

Until I learn their outs and ins
They never will amuse me.

"D'yuh Need Any Help?"

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

CALL ME MISTER—It was one of those two-meetings-in-one-evening events and I was unable to attend the football banquet and hear Johnny Lujack tell the youngsters of all ages all about football.

But it was my good fortune not to miss Lujack completely. For while at the House of Ludington following my dinner meeting Lujack was the center of attention at a little reception in his honor. Out of a side door and into the lobby steamed John A. Lemmer, with Lujack striding behind, pausing here and there to shake hands with those eager to greet the handsome young football star. Lemmer did the introductions and I felt my hand briefly enfolded by a big warm paw.

"Pleasure to meet you, Mr. Lujack," said I.

"Thanks," he said.

Then turning to grasp another hand I heard him murmur, "Mister Lujack—Mister, all the time Mister."

NOT STRANGERS—And it was at the Ludington that night that I heard Dr. Richard O'Dell, associate professor of history at Northern Michigan College of Education, describe the importance of the work done by local historians. What he did not tell his listeners was that his wife, the former Miss Louise Sprau, was a member of the Escanaba high school faculty a number of years ago. Perhaps that was a matter of local history the professor overlooked.

FOR THIRTY YEARS—Leaving the House of Ludington for a few minutes, suppose we stop a few doors away and see Norman (Norm) T. Stephenson, retail grocer—who has been supplying food for 30 years to ships that come to Escanaba harbor.

Writing in the Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer, Bertram B. Lewis reports that Norm Stephenson is "a leading candidate for the No 1 Jack-of-all-trades on the Great Lakes."

From his retail grocery in downtown Escanaba, two miles from the ore loading docks, he supplies ships with food, serves as a one-man employment bureau for seamen, is go-between for sailors with dirty shirts and at Escanaba laundry, and sells Plain Dealers to crew men.

"If a skipper is short a sailor as his ship nears the port, he calls Stephenson by ship-to-shore phone. The grocer, who has a list on his desk of seamen out of work, picks out one he thinks will fit the captain's needs and has him waiting at the dock when the ship arrives."

"He estimates that he fills between 40 and 50 crew vacancies a season."

"Stephenson, who is tall, brawny and gray haired, delivers the supplies to the ship by launch. He is well acquainted with the captains of most of the steamers that make the port."

THE BARRIER—Still poking around in that end of the city let's go over to the Jensen & Jensen Market and chat with Roy Jensen, as we did a few days ago. At that time he told us that Escanaba commercial fishermen when they went to Traverse City for the annual meeting of the Michigan Fish Producers association, tion, would invite the association to hold its 1951 meeting in Escanaba.

But the fishermen of the state are to meet next year in Traverse City—and there may be a reason for it.

About the time the convention was underway at Traverse City this year, transportation across the Straits of Mackinac was halted because the ferries were unable to get through heavy ice. Downstate folks, aware of this, may have wondered how they could get to Escanaba—if they accepted this city's invitation to hold the convention here in January, 1951.

The proposed Straits bridge would probably be no more than plans on paper by that date. The Straits will continue a barrier until a bridge is built.

TALKING POINT—Back to the House of Ludington again and some comments on another meeting, this time in connection with a proposed state office building for Escanaba. This building, when and if it is built, will be located in the 300 block facing Ludington street.

State agencies are interested in the proposal, the state is interested because it spends about $12,000 annually in housing the several state agencies here, and community leaders are interested because they were born with booster blood in their veins.

City-owned utilities, separate storm and sanitary sewers, efficient garbage collection, a good site overlooking the bay—these are some of the inducements. A representative of the state was most impressed when he was told that a city steam main is only a block distant from the site. Not to be overlooked in this list of advantages is $100,000 bequeathed for such a building by the late Mrs. Catherine Bonifas.

The Telephone Strike

"The public of the State of Michigan is protected against any interruption of telephone service under existing contracts between the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and Divisions 43 and 44 of the Communications Workers of America, CIO."

Contracts signed by Michigan Bell and the union in December, 1948, are in full force and contain a definite no-strike clause.

Following are pertinent excerpts from the no-strike portion of the current contract which Lange referred to:

1. "The union agrees that until this contract has been terminated interference with the normal operations of business.

2. "In event of a violation of paragraph 1 hereof, the Company will not hold the union responsible for such violation if the union does not sanction or participate in the violation or incite, aid, encourage or support in any way employees engaged in such violation, and if the following steps are taken by the union upon notification by the Company:

A. The union shall immediately issue a signed notice to the press, the Company and employees, to the effect that such interference admitted or alleged, describing it, is unauthorized by the union, in violation of this contract and that any picket lines which may be established are to be ignored.

B. The union shall within twenty-four hours and in writing advise its members taking part in such interference to resume normal operations at once."

This clause was inserted in the existing contract and the recommendation of Governor Sigler's fact-finding board after a series of "quickie strikes" interrupted telephone service in a number of Michigan Bell exchanges earlier in 1948.

The clause places the responsibility for uninterrupted telephone service directly upon the union. In this the public is protected against any unwarranted interruptions over a matter not affecting Michigan Bell employees.

The dispute in question involves only the Western Electric Company which currently has 455 employees engaged in installing equipment in 43 Michigan Bell central office buildings throughout the State.

Because Western Electric is serving as contractor to Michigan Bell, a walkout by its employees would affect only equipment additions now underway. It would not, under Michigan Bell's contract with divisions 43 and 44, affect present telephone service.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—A friendly Texan who speaks in a soft drawl and wears neat bow ties is the big surprise of the supreme court.

Six months ago when Attorney General Tom Clark's name was sent to the senate, his critics looked down their noses and sneered, "A politician! A bureaucrat!" In the gleaming white marble building across the park from the capitol, there was apprehension.

But today, fellow justices ungrudgingly describe Clark as "Conscientious. . . A great worker. . . A pacifying influence." Chief Justice Fred Vinson beams fondly when the freshman is mentioned.

Usually a neophyte on the high court is considered a go-getter if he writes two majority opinions his first year. Tom Clark has written five in less than six months—two on taxes, corporate responsibility, railway safety, and a cost equation for property requisitioned by the government.

Remarkably one justice of Clark: "Tom is the easiest man on the bench to get along with. He is a great help to us all. He works hard, does more than his share, and turns out a sound product."

ABE LINCOLN—"FAIR DEALER?"

When GOP Leader Joe Martin moved that the house of representatives dispense with legislative business on February 13 so Republicans could attend various Lincoln Day dinners, Democrat Walter Huber of Ohio rose as if to object. Instead, Huber said:

"Inasmuch as if Abraham Lincoln were alive today he would be a Fair Dealer, I shall offer no objection to the request the gentleman intends to make."

"Thank you," replied Martin, "but I have some doubts about the gentleman's assumption with regard to Abraham Lincoln."

RUSSIA FEARS ATOM

The atom bomb has forced a radical and secret shift in Russian military tactics, according to latest intelligence reports.

In World War II, Soviet tactics were based on huge masses of men supported by tanks and artillery, but given only meagre air support. Today, however, Russia has built a powerful air force of heavy, long-range bombers for offense, plus swift jet fighters for defense. This is to ward off an atomic attack from the air.

More than half the Soviet military budget goes into the air force. The goal is 20,000 fighting planes, half of them swift jets, 40 per cent heavy bombers, and the remainder conventional fighters and fighter-bombers.

Taking a leaf from another successful maneuver used by Americans, British and Germans, Russia is now reported to have an airborne army of 150,000 men.

Another eye-opening set of figures is the Soviet-controlled airplane production last year. This is 3,000 heavy bombers, 5,000 light bombers, 5,000 jet fighters, and 2,500 conventional fighters. Total — 15,500 new planes.

In comparison, the U. S. air force totals 17,800 planes, many of them in mothballs.

GOP DUCKS CIVIL RIGHTS

GOP National Chairman Guy Gabrielson has received a hot letter from Democratic Congressman Ray Madden of Indiana urging Gabrielson to build a fire under Republican foes of civil rights on the house rules committee.

Madden reminded the GOP chieftain that three Republicans teamed up with the Dixiecrats to pigeonhole the FEPC bill in the rules committee—Reps. Clarence Brown of Ohio, Leo Allen of Illinois and James Wadsworth of New York.

Madden also pointedly called Gabrielson's attention to the fact that, as leader of the Republican party, he is duty bound to carry out the civil rights plank of the GOP's 1948 platform.

So far he has had no reply from Gabrielson.

Angus Ward, the bewhiskered consul general who came back from China a month ago, already has achieved a distinction that Secretary Acheson can't match.

The other day Secretary Acheson not only was stopped by the guards at the door but had a difficult time identifying himself before he was admitted. Angus Ward's board, however, is his passport.

WEST COAST 1942 FRENZY

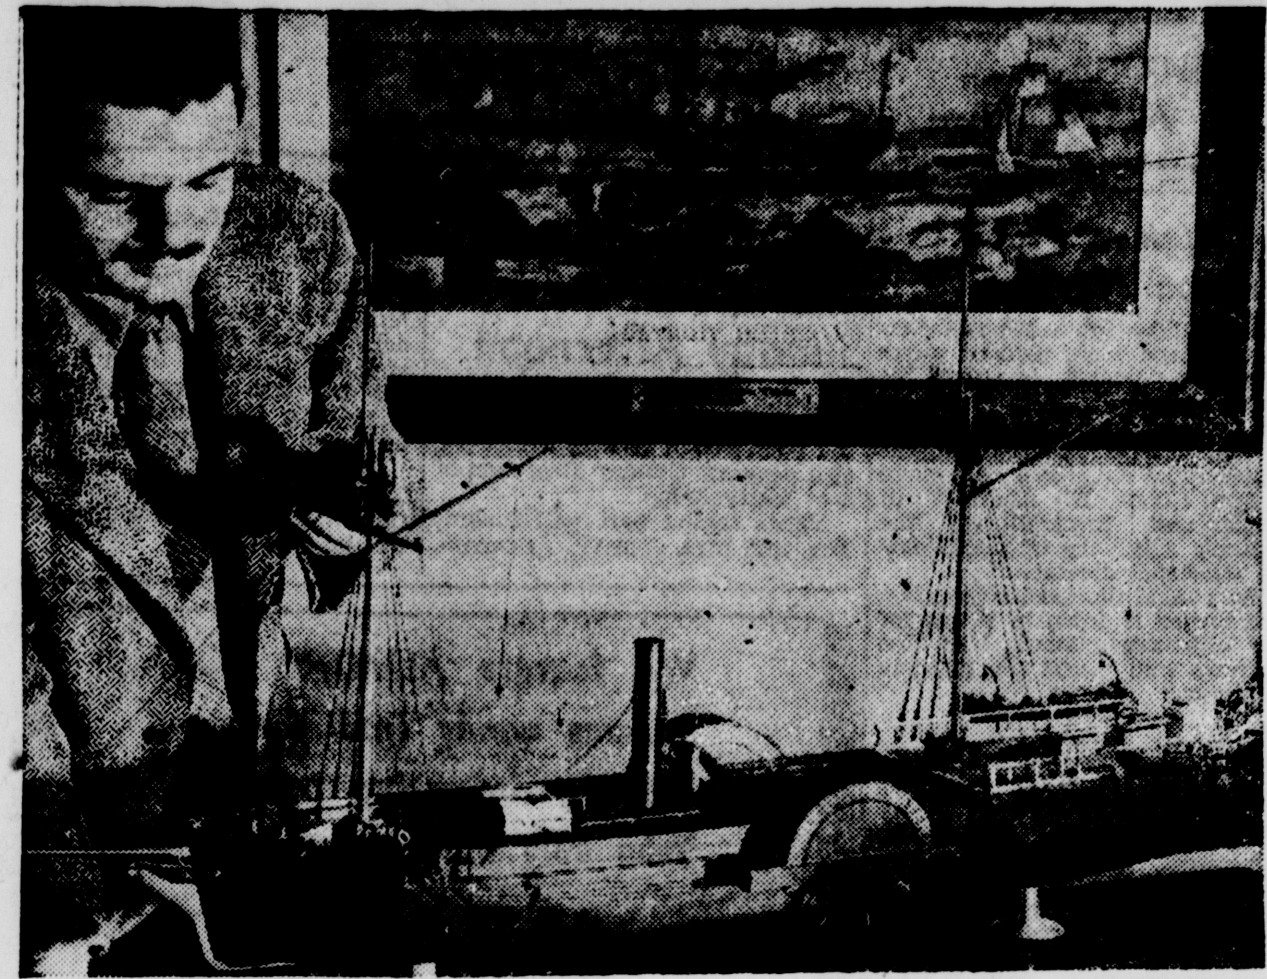

A letter from a Catholic priest may stop senate confirmation of Karl R. Bendetsen of Aberdeen, Wash., as assistant secretary of the army. The letter tells the story of Bendetsen when he was in charge of evacuating persons of Japanese ancestry from the west coast during the hysteria of 1942.

Writes Father Hugh Lavery of the Catholic Maryknoll Mission of Los Angeles: "Bendetsen" showed himself a little Hitler. I mentioned that we had a non-Japanese. I told him some of these were half-Japanese, others one-fourth or less. I asked, 'Which children should we send to the relocation centers?' (Bendetsen) replied, 'I am determined that if they have one drop of Japanese blood in them they must all go to camp.' Just as with Hitler, so with him. It was a question of blood."

Mike Masaka, the Japanese-American war hero, has shown the letter to senators, many of whom are opposed to Bendetsen's confirmation as assistant secretary of war, especially since the strong court of appeals opinion written by U. S. Judge William Denham of San Francisco condemning the army's treatment of Japanese-Americans.

U-M HAS MODEL OF FIRST GREAT LAKES STEAMBOAT—A model of "Walk in the Water," first steamboat to ply the upper Great Lakes, has just been acquired by the William L. Clements Library at the University of Michigan. Robert B. Brown, curator of books, is shown examining the model.

In the background is a picture of the steamboat at Detroit in 1820, painted by George Washington Whistler, father of the famous American artist, James Abbott McNeill Whistler.

The "Walk in the Water" first docked in Detroit in 1818 and was the first steamboat to visit Mackinac Island and navigate Lakes Michigan, Huron and Erie.

'Walk In The Water' Was First Among Steamboats

ANN ARBOR — Smoke rolled from the tall smoke pipe and her paddle wheels made white trails as the "Walk in the Water," first steamboat on the upper Great Lakes, moved across Lake Erie toward Detroit in August, 1818.

She was making a top speed of seven and a half miles an hour. The "Walk in the Water" docked at Detroit August 27, at the end of her maiden voyage from Black Rock, N. Y. On that trip, she dropped anchor at Buffalo, Erie, Pa., and Cleveland and was the first steamboat to call at these ports.

On later trips to Mackinac Island and Green Bay, Wis., "Walk in the Water" became the first steam vessel on Lakes Huron and Michigan. The "Ontario" and "Frontenac" had established steam service on Lake Ontario before the "Walk in the Water" was launched.

Boat Model Displayed
Early days of the "Walk in the Water" were recalled this week when a model of the boat was placed on display in the William L. Clements Library at the University of Michigan. The model, just acquired, has been added to the library's extensive collection of American history.

"Walk in the Water" was built at Black Rock, New York, two and a half miles down the Niagara River from Buffalo, at a cost of $50,000. Nearly fifty men worked through the spring and summer to complete her 145 foot long deck, and 135 feet keel. She was 32 feet wide, with a 330 ton displacement. The square 73 horsepower wood burning engine had been built in New York City, and shipped up the Hudson River to Albany by sloop, and by oxen drawn wagon to Black Rock. Sails supplemented the engine built on the Fulton plan.

"Walk in the Water" was named after a Wyandotte Indian chief whose totem was a turtle. The chief lived in an Indian village near what is now Wyandotte, Michigan. During the War of 1812 the chief fought with the British and was a captain of marines in the Detroit campaign. Legend says that during the Battle of Lake Erie the chief was on board the "Queen Charlotte." When the American "Niagara" bore down on the "Queen," Chief Walk-in-the-Water jumped overboard and swam ashore. But the chief died about two months before his namesake steamed past his village on the Detroit River.

With everything shipshape and under a full head of steam, the "Walk in the Water" started on her first voyage. But to the great chagrin of her Captain Job Fish, she could not make it up the rapids of the Niagara River. Captain Fish finally had to call upon the "horred breeze," twelve yoke of oxen, to pull the steamboat the two and one half miles up the river to Lake Erie.

Voyage Related
She left Buffalo on August 23, 1818, carrying mail and 29 passengers. The next morning she took on wood at Erie and was visited by the town's curious during the day. Cleveland's 500 citizens greeted the steamboat with cheers and salvos of artillery, and inspected her after she docked on August 25th. Her next stop was Venice, on Sandusky Bay, where another load of wood was taken on board.

Arrival at Detroit was recorded in the diary of Rev. John Montith, who was then president of the fledgling "University of Michigan." "Walk in the Water," 44 hours out of Buffalo, tied up at Wings Wharf at the foot of Bates Street near the present entrance of Detroit-Windsor tunnel. Montith wrote that "the French after some superstitious cogitations came to the terrific conclusion that: 'It is a Yankee contrivance and has its smoke from the lower regions.' The copper colored man was not inclined to think so, but that the vessel is tied to a great sturgeon, by whose mighty power it moves right along against wind and tide." When Montith left Michigan for the East in 1821, he booked passage on the "great sturgeon."

A painting of the boat, now hanging in the Clements Library was made at Detroit in 1820 by George Washington Whistler, father of James McNeill Whistler. The younger Whistler is the American artist known for his famous portrait of his mother.

In June, 1819, "Walk in the Water" steamed the length of Lake Huron to call at Mackinac Island. In 1821 with a detachment of U. S. troops bound for the "upper country," the steamboat extended her Mackinac trip across Lake Michigan to Green Bay on August 5th. This was her only trip on Lake Michigan.

Hit by Squall
On October 31, 1821, the "Walk in the Water" left Black Rock for a regular trip to Detroit. About 20 miles west of Buffalo a heavy squall hit her. It continued through the night and the captain dropped anchors to ride out the storm. Planking worked loose and water poured through the seams filling the hold to about four feet. The captain thought the ship was doomed and toward morning cut the anchor cables. By five o'clock on the morning of November 1, the "Walk in the Water" was no longer doing that, but lying wrecked near shore with a splintered hull and a broken keel. This point is now the foot of Main Street in Buffalo. None of the passengers was injured, but the steamboat, except for the engine, was a complete wreck. The engine was later removed from the broken hull and placed in service again

Smooth Gunman Frees Prisoner

Felon Makes Escape At Waltham, Mass.

WALTHAM, Mass. — (AP) — A smooth-talking gunman locked up two attendants at gunpoint last night to release a prisoner with a long criminal record from Metropolitan state hospital where he was undergoing mental tests pending superior court trial.

The prisoner, identified as Atwood White, 24, of Boston, was committed to the hospital following his arrest on charges of conspiracy to commit armed robbery, transporting a stolen car and unlawful possession of firearms.

The break was enacted in the presence of 60 mentally ill patients, none of whom became alarmed.

The gunman, accompanied by two others, asked Superintendent Maurice Havey for permission to visit White.

Havey denied the request because it was after visiting hours. He relented, however, when the spokesman told him he was White's brother and that bad driving conditions delayed his arrival.

Havey permitted the spokesman a five-minute visit. The other two returned to their car parked at a side entrance.

In the five minutes allotted him in White's ward, the visitor, armed with a gun in one hand and a knife in the other, forced attendant Francis Gannon into an office, took his keys away and locked him in.

He repeated the process when another attendant, Salvatore Lisacki, appeared on the scene.

With the two attendants out of the way, White and his visitor fled from the third-floor ward. They got away in the waiting automobile.

Gannon and Lisacki notified other hospital employees several minutes later when they gained freedom by climbing through a transom over the office door.

It was the second escape from the hospital in less than 48 hours. Six patients—three men and three women—fled during a dance last Monday night. All but one of the women were recaptured.

Police said White has a record of about 20 arrests since 1941, doing time in Concord reformatory, Norfolk state prison colony and state prison.

He was arrested by Somerville police in December while riding in an automobile with three other men. He was indicted last month and committed to the hospital for a 35-day observation.

Has Your Parlor Won Any Prizes?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—Chalk 1950 down as a complete failure for me. We've gone and missed it again. Missed what? Why, missed having our parlor picked as one of the ten best-dressed living rooms in Manhattan.

HAL BOYLE

The selection was made by some house-keeping firm that says it manicures most of the mansions "listed in the social register"—although I thought the social register catalogued people rather than homes.

The firm said it chose the top ten living rooms from some 500 nominees. And it estimated the value of the furnishings in the lucky winner at about $500,000—or $50,000 a room.

There must be some error here. Could any living room actually cost $50,000? What would they paper it with—mink?

Who were the winners? Well, 960 Fifth Avenue (Mrs. John Reed Topping) placed first. The second place living room declined to give its address, but admitted it was owned by Elizabeth Arden, a lady who has notions about notions.

Then, third, came 550 Park

Avenue, lived in by Mrs. Danny Kaye; fourth, 20 East 60th Street, inhabited by Mrs. Deems Taylor, and fifth, 630 Park Avenue, where Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart dwells. All the other prize-winning living rooms were from the tony upper east side except 25 Central Park West, a dark horse entry from the other side of town, in which Ethel Merman sings after supper. It placed eighth.

What worries me is what happens when I go home to 541 East 20th street, apartment 8-F. That is where my living room hangs out. How can I face it?

The first thing it will say is, "don't try to hold the news back from me. Why didn't I win?" And the more I try to console it, the more unhappy it will get. "What's the matter, do I need my rug lifted?" it will plead. Or—"Tell me the truth, is my radiator showing?"

Spent Only $684.33

This will go on for days and days, with my living room developing more and more of an inferiority complex.

"Oh, you don't have to tell me—I know I'm hopelessly out-of-date," it will sigh. "Just mahogany and old lace—that's me. I've had my day. You should have gotten yourself a younger living room."

Then my living room will begin to brood—and blame me.

"I found out that those prize-winning living rooms had $50,000 worth of frou-frou in them. You know what you spent on me altogether—$684.33? No wonder I look like I don't have anything to wear."

Believe it or not, I'll then have to start borrowing from the bank

Germfask

Harry Widdecombe of Grand Rapids is spending a few days in town on business.

Mrs. John Lustila Jr. spent Friday and Saturday in Marquette attending a school board association meeting.

The W.S.C.S. held their "Family Night" supper on Monday evening, Jan. 30 at the Community building.

Rev. and Mrs. Brodie of McMillan attended a supper, and following the supper Rev. Brodie showed slides.

Lawrence Miller who is spending his mid-term vacation at his home here spent the weekend at to pep my old living room up. And by the time we win a prize, well, I'll be living over the hill in the poorhouse.

Isn't there already enough trouble in the world caused by giving prizes to people? Why start making parlors ambitious?

How I Rid My System Of Rheumatism and Arthritis

In appreciation for what O-JIB-WA BITTERS has done for him, John Bradshaw Route No. 1, Cloverdale, enthusiastically tells of his wonderful results in overcoming Rheumatism and Arthritis.

"I think O-JIB-WA BITTERS is really all right. I suffered with rheumatism and arthritis in my back and legs. It got so bad I could hardly walk, and the cramps in my legs were so painful I lost many a night's sleep as I would have to rub them to work the pain out. They were something awful. This went on for about six months, during which time it was all I could do to get out of bed and move around the house."

I couldn't even walk to the road, so had to quit my job at the paper mill, as working was impossible."

Forced to Quit Work
"I heard about O-JIB-WA BITTERS through a friend who advised me to try it. I took it two weeks, then began to get relief, and have continued to get better ever since. Now my legs are completely better, and I could walk a mile if necessary in fact you should see me chasing the chickens. I have told many friends about my wonderful results with O-Jib-Wa Bitters. I am now able to work around the farm. My kidneys are much better and everybody remarks that I have so much pep for a man of 79. I wouldn't be without O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and am always recommending it to others."

Russia Is Ancient Story In Bulgaria

SOFIA—(P)—The Russian influence is nothing new in Bulgaria. Anybody who walks six blocks through the center of Sofia has brought home to him by the names of landmarks along the way. The pedestrian can start at the blocklike white limestone mausoleum of Georgi Dimitroff, who came home from Moscow after 22 years in exile to become Communist premier of postwar Bulgaria.

The way leads along a boulevard named for Alexander II of Russia. He warred on the Turks for Bulgaria's freedom. Four blocks down stands St. Alexander Nevsky Bulgarian Orthodox cathedral, named for a thirteenth-century Russian warrior. Ahead is a statue of Alexander on horseback. Beyond that is Marshal Tolbukhin street, honoring the Russian leader whose troops were on Bulgarian soil at the time of the 1944 revolt.

School Rackets Checked By VA

Making New Survey On G. I. Education

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent)

Washington (NEA) — A new Veterans' Administration survey on G. I. education below the college level will show plenty of evidence of widespread abuses by privately operated vocational schools. VA officials have been gathering evidence on this subject since mid-November, though their detailed report will not be made public until submitted to Congress on Feb. 1.

Release of this report is almost certain to bring forth a new flood of protests from the schools themselves and their G. I. students. They claim that the VA has no right to decide what schools a G. I. attends or what and how many courses he takes, provided the costs fall within the dollar limits of educational benefits to which they are entitled.

This fight really goes back three years, when VA officials began to protest abuses under the G. I. bill. In September, 1948, VA arbitrarily issued a new set of regulations governing educational benefits below the college level. Bathroom dancing, bartending and other avocational and recreational courses were banned. So were schools started after the G. I. bill was passed, correspondence courses and other "fly-by-night" schools. And vets were forbidden to switch from one line of instruction to another.

Protests Created A Stir
This order, coming at the start of the school year, was of questionable legality. It created an uproar. Protests poured in on Congress. Senator Taft of Ohio says he alone got 4000.

The result was that this order was rescinded and a milder substitute issued. It banned the same list of avocational "studies" but permitted vets to change courses, if in the same field. If in a new field, the student had to pass guidance and adaptability tests.

This is the order under which the system now operates under H. V. Stirling, VA assistant administrator for Vocational Rehabilitation and Education. Trade schools which have come under VA scrutiny accuse Stirling of being a high-handed dictator, and are after his scalp.

A bill to take the matter out of VA control and re-regulate educational standards by law was introduced by Senator Taft last year. His bill passed the Senate, but failed in the House. It will be up

SETS AND LIGHTING—Producing an ice review such as the one to be presented at the indoor rink here Feb. 9-12 is possible only because hundreds of Escanabans spend their free time making sets, costumes, and lighting and acoustical arrangements for the show. At left you see Donald Sullivan, Bob Plave, properties chairman; William Davis and Joseph LaCrosse building an ice cutter to be used in Escanaba's 12th annual ice show. It takes much know how, many ideas, and willing hands to turn out properties such as this. Over on the right, Oliver Nantell, Walter Wicklund, Francis Costley, Henry Kopas and Ed Carlson work on lighting for the ice show. This year, lighting and sound experts from Chicago are assisting in designing plans for the show, to insure the best and newest arrangements used for productions such as these. The Escanaba Ice Review has been the chief thought and hobby of many Escanabans since last fall, whether their job was to scout the local links for skating talent, outline production numbers, make costumes, or string lights. It's paid off too. The show this year will be about the best "biggest small town ice show in the world." (Escanaba Press Photos) for reconsideration next year. The schools don't like the Taft bill, either, because it puts too many restrictions on them.

Involved in this dispute are some 12,000 below-college-level schools with $39,000 G. I. students. This is an increase of 1400 schools and 143,000 students over last year. It is the increase which bothers VA officials. They charge that too many of the schools—about 7000—are operated primarily for profit. Some few of them give courses which may appeal to the vet but offer him little prospect for getting a job. This is not true of most of the older, established trade schools.

Not An Unemployment Bureau

What really bothers the VA, however, is a suspicion that too many G. I.'s are using the schools as a form of unemployment insurance. Having used up their readjustment allowances in the past four years, they are taking courses for the subsistence allowances.

Every vet is entitled to training of one year plus the time he spent in service, up to four years. During this period he may draw $75 a month if single, $105 if married, $120 if any children.

In addition to these payments to the vets, VA makes a contract with the school to pay it, on an established formula for each G. I. student, an allowance for tuition, text books, rent, heat, light, taxation, insurance, depreciation, advertising and administration. Some schools have profited to the extent of $500,000 or more a year.

Here is one known case of abuse under the system:
A school in Chicago claimed payments for 3000 students. VA officials could never find more than 300 in classes. The other "students" had enrolled all right, but they never attended a class, worked at other jobs, and received educational subsistence allowances.

VA officials say they are reluctant to put bans on any schools, but say they have a responsibility to the taxpayers and to the G. I. students, to make sure they get good instruction. So far, nearly $9,000,000,000 has been spent on G. I. education. If only one per cent of this amount had been wasted on educational racketeering by diploma mills, it would amount to

Pay Raises For City Workers Are Declining

Chicago (AP)—There has been a slowdown in pay raises for people on city payrolls.

The International City Managers Association and the Civil Service Assembly made a study of pay rates in 100 cities, and reported:

"Fewer cities gave pay raises during the first six months of 1949 than during similar periods in 1947 and 1948. Forty per cent of the 100 reporting cities raised pay rates during the first half of 1949 compared with 47 and 61 per cent for the first half of 1947 and 1948 respectively."

Cool Stars Give Clue In Making Dread H-Bombs

By FRANK CAREY

(Associated Press Science Reporter)

WASHINGTON, — (AP) — "Cool stars" may have prompted American hopes for perfecting a hydrogen bomb.

These stars are cool only when compared with the colossal heat of the sun. But it's just that fact which may have pointed the way to making the H-bomb a practical weapon.

All the unofficial theory has contended that a temperature of at least 22,000,000 degrees would be needed to explode the hydrogen in an H-bomb.

That theory, suggesting the use of an orthodox atomic bomb as a "booster" for the H-bomb, is based on this fact:
The sun, which has been firing its superatomic furnace with hydrogen energy since time began, has an internal temperature of 22,000,000 degrees.

But there are stars in the heavens called "red giants" which stay in the energy-production business with a temperature of only 1,000,000 degrees.

Dr. Hans Bethe of Cornell, who first conceived the theory that the sun and the stars derive their energy from a reaction involving hydrogen, referred to these million-degree "red giants" in testimony before a Senate committee several years ago.

He said these cooler stars are supposed to derive their energy from a reaction involving "heavy hydrogen"—a heavier form of hydrogen atom than the one utilized by the sun in generating its nuclear energy.

"Heavy hydrogen," called deuterium, is one of the things the atomic energy commission is studying thoroughly. It's also devoting research to a still heavier form of hydrogen called "tritium."

Assuming they developed a bomb employing either of these types of hydrogen—and "built in" a regular atomic bomb as a primer to provide the triggering-temperature—the scientists might conceivably achieve this result:

The built-in bomb, with a hint-of-at exploding temperature of at least 20,000,000 degrees, would have 20 times the potential heat necessary to touch off the "heavy" hydrogen atoms.

The excess of 19,000,000 degrees might be a key to the short-cut needed to duplicate in a bomb the process that goes on in the stars.

In the sun, the process of "fusing" hydrogen atoms to produce helium—and the release of nuclear energy—requires about 5,000,000 years, and the aiding action of other elements like carbon and nitrogen.

In a bomb, the whole process must take place in a split second. That extra terrific heat might do the trick—thanks to the example of those refrigerator stars, twinkling away millions upon millions of miles from a bomb-conscious world.

Gratifying progress in the current March of Dimes fund campaign is reported by Mrs. C. F. Anderson, chairman of the drive in Schoolcraft county.

Up to Thursday noon, slightly in excess of $600 had been raised, says Mrs. Anderson, and this amount does not include the receipts from the 150 coin containers placed at vantage points in stores, banks, taverns and other places in the county.

Most of the money raised thus far has come from receipts from card parties, dances and other forms of entertainment, and also from returns from solicitations for donations. Concerning the latter, the committee urgently requests that those who have not sent in their contributions, do so at the earliest possible moment.

The coin containers will be collected the last of next week.

Entertainment booked for this cause for the immediate future is a dance, sponsored by the Knights of Columbus at their hall Friday evening, and an amateur entertainment to be held at the Hiawatha Grange hall on Feb. 11. The amateur program will consist of skits of all kinds; fiddle mouth organ, accordion and jewsharp playing, singing and perhaps a quadrille or two. Participants are strictly confined to residents of Hiawatha township.

New Drug Found
For Arthritis Cure

PHILADELPHIA—Good results with a new anti-arthritis drug closely related to cortisone but promising to be more plentiful were reported at a regional meeting of the American College of Physicians here.

Tried on 15 patients, the drug brought moderate improvement to three, marked to very marked improvement to nine, and failed to help three. Drs. Donald R. Fitch and Peter J. Warter of Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital and Dr. Joseph Seifter, director of the Wyeth Institute of Applied Biochemistry here, reported. The three patients who did not respond to the drug were very advanced cases. All improvements occurred "without side effects or the slightest evidence of toxicity" so far, the doctors reported. The drug has been given for a maximum period of 10 weeks to some patients.

The new drug has been named artione by its manufacturers. It can "eventually" be made available in "very substantial quantities" and large scale production is expected to reduce its cost.

TOP DAIRYMAN—Dr. Carl Yoder, Route One, Manistique is here shown leading one of his favorite cows—Peachy Patsy—which was a big factor in enabling Dr. Yoder for the second consecutive year to hold the distinction of having the highest producing dairy herd in Schoolcraft county. Peachy Patsy's record was 540 pounds of butterfat in her year's record. Twelve cows in the herd averaged 409.2 pounds of butterfat the past year. In the background is the doctor's chief helper, Buck, the shepherd dog. Dr. Yoder, besides operating a dairy farm all alone, has a wide practice as a veterinary surgeon. (Photo by Linderoth)

Seventy-One Year Old Man
Successfully Runs Dairy
Farm Without Any Help

In a recent issue of the Daily Press there appeared in this section a certain news story to the effect that Dr. Carl Yoder, Route 1, Manistique, had led the Schoolcraft County Dairy Herd Improvement association for the second successive year. This year's record, the report stated, showed that Dr. Yoder's herd of purebred Guernsey cows averaged 409.2 pounds of butterfat per cow.

That however only partially tells the story. Not only did Dr. Yoder achieve a noteworthy success in this effort, but the work of keeping this herd in top production—painstaking attention to detail along with the grueling hard work that goes with maintaining a successful dairy farm—has been done all alone by the doctor himself.

Works Alone

That has meant long hours of heavy labor—pitching hay, weighing feed, milking (by hand) and the infinite number of duties associated with farm work. And in addition Dr. Yoder is a veterinary surgeon whose practice is in big demand and whose calls come from all parts of the county.

But the unusual thing about Dr. Yoder has not yet been revealed. The doctor is 71 years old. The age when most farmers are retired. The doctor was in the midst of his farm duties when the Daily Press representative called at his farm a few days ago. He confessed that he was a bit behind with his work because he had been called to a farm about six miles away during the night and the time it had taken had interfered with his routine. The roads had been unusually slippery and more time had been spent creeping along the highways than attending to the purpose of his visit. He expressed satisfaction, however, in the fact that both the cow and the calf were saved.

Farms 400 Acres

"How big a farm have you here?" he was asked. "Too big," he replied. Then he elucidated. "There are about four hundred acres on this farm." The farm, generally speaking, produces his dairy feed requirements, but last year was a bad year for hay and many tons were spoiled by rains that came in the midst of the season. He said he feared his production would be down this year, because of his inability to get good hay of the type he desired.

All Registered Guernseys

Dr. Yoder keeps about twenty head of cattle on hand, maintaining a herd of from ten to 12 milking cows at all times. All are registered cattle and the head of the herd is a registered bull he raised from his favorite cow, Floris Bernice, who although 13 years old, is still one of the best producers. Singling out this bovine dowager he explained that the cow has been a consistently high producer ever since the coming of her first calf and now, at what is regarded the declining years of a cow, she is still raising good hardy calves and producing nearly the highest record of milk and butterfat in the herd. Her latest record in the last 300 days was more than 400 pounds of butterfat.

Another favorite cow is Peachy Patsy with a record of 540 pounds of butterfat in the current year record period which takes in about 310 days. "If I milked these cows three times a day—like the breeders do who work for national records—I could increase the output of every cow by a big margin, but I don't think it pays to crowd the cattle like that," said the doctor. Then, er's success that he did not enlarge upon, but which was apparent even to a city bred news reporter. The good doctor has real affection for his cattle. That farm is ruled by kindness. He speaks to the animals in a kindly way. Even a yearling heifer which had the run of the place and was getting in the doctor's way every so often, was gently chided and pushed away. And it seemed to understand. "I'll bet it hurts when the time comes and you have to ship one of these," said the reporter. "Yes it does," said the doctor. He was standing near Floris Bernice, his oldest cow, just then and he stroked her ears affectionately. "This cow isn't going to be producing much longer and I suppose it'll be up to me to decide what to do with her. I'm not so sure just what I'll do—maybe I'll ship her and then again, may I'll not."

Good Sire Important

"But the best way to build up a high producing herd—and to me, the only way—is to get cows and heifers of pedigreed stock with high producing lineage, and a purebred sire from good record stock. The sire is the most important animal in the herd and one cannot over-emphasize this factor," said Dr. Yoder. There are other factors, involving feed, pasture and conditions under which cows thrive best, the doctor went on to say, but he went back to fundamentals—good breeding stock and a good sire.

Concerning artificial breeding of cattle, the doctor said, that it had its advantages in using the best of sires in production of cattle. Some of his cattle are bred this way, but he said that for the present, he preferred the time honored method of producing herds.

Kindness Brings Returns

There is one factor in Dr. Yoder's

er's success that he did not enlarge upon, but which was apparent even to a city bred news reporter. The good doctor has real affection for his cattle. That farm is ruled by kindness. He speaks to the animals in a kindly way. Even a yearling heifer which had the run of the place and was getting in the doctor's way every so often, was gently chided and pushed away. Kings," Sunday

At the regular evening service hour at the First Baptist church next Sunday evening, the religious masterpiece, "The King of Kings," will be presented and the public is invited to attend and witness this portrayal of the life of Jesus. The script was written and the picture directed by Cecil B. DeMille, who took his entire story from the Four Gospels and Apocrypha. Thorns were brought from the Holy Land and worn by H. B. Warner, who played the part of Christ. On the lot, a prayer began every day's work. Smoking was banned and the principals were bound by written agreement to keep away from parties and night clubs during the production.

Is Subject Of Interesting Talk

"Hot Spots of Children's Behavior" was the topic of an interesting and instructive address given by Miss Esther L. Middlewood, director of mental health education, state department of health, Lansing, at a large gathering of Manistique's East and West side Parent-Teacher units and the WSCS Wednesday.

Her topic, she explained in her introduction, concerned children's behavior which bothers parents a good deal but which is pretty well the normal and natural behavior at various stages of development.

Rough house and rowdiness are an example of behavior hard on parents' nerves and on the furniture at times but this is healthy and wholesome for the children. Increased outdoor activity or more space inside are better remedies than television sets or long hours of listening to radio programs. Children act out in play their attitudes, hostilities and resentments toward their parents, other children and their environment in general.

Two periods in a child's life are especially important in molding his attitude toward the opposite sex and therefore toward marriage, the speaker said. The first period is between the ages of 3 and 6 when the girls tend to pull away somewhat from the mother and become closer to the father and boys see their relationship to their mothers in a new light. The second period is the pre-adolescent 10 to 12 year age when each child is beginning to change from child to young adult. How they accept their own masculinity or femininity at this time influences their future attitude and the role they will play later in married life.

Conflict Causes Problems
The chief problems of adolescence arise from the conflict between the drive for independence and the still present desire for dependence. Miss Middlewood said in conclusion. Youth wants to be adult one day and a child the next. Parents on the other hand request adult responsibility one time and refuse adult privileges the next.

An extensive question and answer period followed the address and a social closed the evening. Refreshments were served by the W. S. C. S. committee. Mrs. Earl Cox, Mrs. Lester Richards, Mrs. Carl Anderson and Mrs. Joseph Davis.

Band Part In
Feb. 8 Program
Is Announced

Announcement by Ferdinand Gorsche, director of the Manistique Municipal Band, of its part of the program in which the band and the Escanaba Barbershop chorus will collaborate at the Manistique high school auditorium on the evening of Wednesday, February 8.

The band program will be, with one exception, made up strictly of marches, overtures and what may come under the classification of "straight band music." The exception is a number of xylophone numbers by Max Naylor, accompanied by the band.

In the space of the program marked "Intermission" the chorus, of 35 voices under the direction of the veteran music master Sam Ham, will do its part. No formal announcement of this part of the program has as yet been made, but it is understood that in addition to the choral music will be a few specialty numbers by Mr. Ham, including solos in Scotch dialect, sung in appropriate costume.

The band program follows:

Star Spangled Banner, Scott Key
March "Anthes," J. H. Gill
Poet and Peasant Overture, F. von Suppe
The Trombone King March, K. L. King
From the South Overture, Isaac-Lilly
Troopers Tribunal March, Fillmore

Marquette Graveraet Redmen Meet St. Joe Here Tomorrow

St. Joseph's Trojans will put their 9-3 record right on the block where everybody can see it when they tangle with the fast Class B quintet, the Marquette Graveraet Redmen, in what promises to be a bangup game at Bonifas gym here tomorrow night.

The reserve squads will meet at 7, and the main game will get underway at 8:30.

The Redmen rate as one of the better Class B teams in the U. P. this season. In fact, they were rated the team to beat for the Class B championship until Ishpeming beat them in a 55-44 tussle, and subsequent developments now have the Class B picture in somewhat of a turmoil.

Be that as it may, however, these Redmen coached by the witty and shrewd Stan Sosnowski are a rugged ball club takes advantages of all breaks and makes a few of its own for good measure.

The Trojans have been clicking of late and are geared to give the Redmen a go of it from the starting gun. And it goes without saying (although we'll go ahead and say it) that an upset is not out of the question. These Escanaba Trojans, you know, are right up there on top of the Class C picture this season and they have it in them to make monkeys out of more than one Class B team.

Officials will be Robert "Pete" Berger and Ray Ranguette of Manistique.

Fullerton Says Green Bay Packers Could Find A Coach In Their Back Yard—Ward Cuff

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK—(P)—Happy Chandler will have some heavy thinking to do in the next few days over the Pirates' affair with young Paul Pettit and the question of whether some clubs are beating the gun on spring training. . . . The guess from here is that he won't slap anyone down for either cause. . . . Pettit obviously isn't a green kid who needs protection from unscrupulous scouts, and if Chandler decides that Pittsburgh evaded the high school rule, he'd have to say the same thing about any other club that might "assume" that pre-deadline contract. . . . The question here seems to be: Is an untied high school pitcher worth 100 G's?

A Grit Garg
At the Chicago baseball writer's dinner last week, the National Baseball Congress presented a plaque to Commissioner Chandler in recognition of his important role in helping to develop sandlot baseball. . . . Next guy on the program was Bill Vecek, who quipped: "Ray Dumont made a mistake in presenting that plaque to the commissioner for having done the most for sandlot baseball. It should have been presented here

4 Peninsula Fighters Make Bids Tonight

Regional Golden Gloves Finals In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE—(Special to Escanaba Daily Press)—Two fighters from Sault Ste. Marie and one each from Escanaba and Munising will represent Upper Michigan in the regional Golden Gloves tournament finals here tonight. More than 4,500 saw the semifinal bouts Wednesday night.

The four U. P. scrappers who came through unscathed in semifinal matches are Harry Sundman, Escanaba's surprise 112-pound brawler, who eliminated a top-ranking Milwaukee Urban League contender, Joe Clark; Truman Van Luyven, Soo 118-pounder, who ousted Russell Raymond, Marshfield; Frank Massie, 135-pounder from the Soo, victor over Gerald McFarren, Fond du Lac, and Donald Hase, the Munising woodchopper, winner over John Dirk, Milwaukee, in a bruising semi-windup Wednesday.

Championship bouts tonight involving Upper Peninsula fighters are: Sundman vs. James Fink, Marshfield; Van Luyven vs. Bill Holloman, Milwaukee; Massie vs. Jerry Jones, Milwaukee, and Hase vs. Benjamin O'Neil, also of Milwaukee. The Hase-O'Neil bout was inadvertently omitted from the finals' schedule published yesterday.

The U. P. team stands an excellent chance of coping with champions tonight—with Sundman and Massie being the most likely titlists—and it has a good chance of winning the regional novice team title.

Can't Force Group Insurance On MAAU

LANSING—(P)—The State Boxing Commission cannot force group accident insurance on the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union Attorney General Stephen J. Roth held today.

Roth declared in an opinion that group insurance for boxers would be legal but that promoters of the A. A. U. could not force athletes to contribute toward the premium costs and the commission could not require promoters or the association to provide the insurance for its members.

One-Minute Sports Page

The Green Bay Packers, minus Curly Lambeau for the first time, could find themselves a swell coach right in their own back yard—Ward Cuff, who has been doing a great job as a high school coach. . . . And Tom Hamilton could do worse for Pitt that to snatch Biggie Goldberg from the pros. . . . After hearing that alumni secretary's blast against the Rose Bowl setup, Ohio State grid followers are wondering just how many alumni quit the association in a huff when they failed to get bowl tickets. . . . Jack Reilly, co-manager of Billy Graham, the east side welterweight, first saw Billy in a Lindy Hop exhibition at the Madison Square boys club. . . . We have yet to figure how Jack decided the kid could become a fighter.

Sleeper Jump

Rod Strader, the N. Y. Bulldogs coach, claims an all-time record for going away back in the boondock to find a football player. . . . One Bulldog rookie, says Red, "is so deep in the woods that we have sent him expense money and he is leaving next week in order to get to training camp by August first."

NEW YORK—(P)—The greatest tennis player of the past 50 years? Is there any argument?

Not in the nostalgic opinion of the nation's sports writers and radio experts. They say that big Bill Tilden, net colossus of the golden twenties, outshone every rival by so great a margin there was no real comparison.

The tall, controversial figure won seven national championships and was ranked No. 1 in the country for 10 straight years from 1920 through '29. He won the vote of 310 out of 391 participants in the Associated Press' mid-century sports poll.

The voters looked back beyond the personal tragedy which has befallen the great champion in recent years and cast almost a solid ballot for Tilden, the tennis player.

Kramer Poor Second

Jack Kramer, the current professional king, attracted 32 votes. Don Budge, the red headed comet of the late thirties was the choice of 31 experts. Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, glamorous seven-time woman's champion, was voted greatest of the period by 12. The remaining six votes were divided among five players.

After he was well into his forties, Tilden was playing the daylights out of such top young fellow professionals as Ellsworth Vines and Fred Perry, and he was carrying 48 years on his back when he finally got a shot at Budge, and lost, in 1941.

Born in Philadelphia Feb. 10, 1893, Tilden was a seasoned 27 when he won his first national championship in 1920 after having twice been runnerup. He was, then, 37, when he won his last big amateur title, the all-England championships at Wimbledon in 1930. Most tennis stars begin feeling old at about 30.

The record shows that in 1934, when big Bill was in his 41st year, he defeated Ely Vines in a five-setter, with one set going to 23-21 in games.

Played At Age 53

In an exhibition tournament for the Red Cross in 1945, when he was a fast-moving 52, Tilden knocked out two such well known professionals as Lloyd Budge and Don Skeen before losing to 26-year-old Welly Van Horn, 6-4, 11-9.

The next year, after three decades of slamming his famous "cannonball" service into opposing courts, big Bill closed his tennis career in the national professional championship at Forest Hills. In an early round he met Wayne Sabin, a rugged player 30 years his junior, and the 53-year-old Tilden found himself out of breath. He won only two games in the last three sets. It was the final gesture of one of the all-time greats of sport.

Tilden and "Little Bill" Johnston, the Californian with the volcanic forehead, became national heroes when they brought the Davis Cup back from Australia in 1920. With some occasional help in the doubles, the two Bills then kept the famous trophy in this country until 1927, when France's "Four Musketeers" upset them at Philadelphia.

In all Tilden won 17 Davis Cup challenge round singles matches and lost five. Henri Cochet beat him three times and Rene Lacoste twice when the Frenchmen were riding high. But, outside of "Little Bill" Johnston, there was no other American who was quite in the master's class for 10 long years.

Pirates 'Home Free' On Big Pettit Deal

NEW YORK—(P)—It looks as if the Pittsburgh Pirates are home free in their $100,000 deal for a schoolboy pitcher but the weird Shenanigans of the case may cause baseball to tighten its high school rule.

Commissioner A. B. Chandler has refused to work up a dither over the deal that saw the Pirates grab 18-year-old Paul Pettit of Los Angeles with a record bonus splash that had a full Hollywood setting.

The commissioner says one of his operatives investigated the case for two weeks. If that operative found no rule violated, he adds, "then I am sure that is the case."

Most of the club executives were willing to let it go at that but there were sharp yelps from Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals and George Weiss, general manager of the New York Yankees.

Saigh called the deal an "outrageous evasion" of the baseball bonus and high school rules and declared:

"I believe the Pettit case should be protested by the club owners to the commissioner, I, for one, shall do so."

Weiss added that if a Major League club is found behind the unique deal "something drastic must be done."

The Pirates obeyed the Major League rules in not signing the six-foot-two, 205-pound southpaw until Tuesday—four days after he had graduated from high school. But there was some extra time. The papers were signed in a movie agent's office, with large cash amounts going in assorted directions.

Lambeau Finds Dotted Line

NEW CARDINAL CHIEF—Ray Bennis, president of the Chicago Cardinals, points out the dotted line as Curley Lambeau, dean of pro football coaches, signs as Cardinals' new coach. Curly resigned as head of the Green Bay Packers, who he helped organize 31 years ago and led to six world championships. (NEA Telephoto)

"It Seems To Me"

BY MM WARD

Johnny Lujack expressed our sentiments exactly when he said there is far too much specialization in modern platoon-system football.

Confidentially, we are glad we played our football in the days when a player could go the limit and have a lot of fun doing it. It was either Don Mason or Ed Bagdon, Michigan State guard greats, who said "A fellow gets awfully tired just running on and off the field."

As Lujack said: "How would you feel when your son asks you to show him how to block and all you did in football was placekick, pass, punt or any one of a number of specializations?"

"No, I think a player should learn every phase of the game. There is far too much specialization in platoon football."

Lujack said, however, that he thought platoon football probably was a better show for the fans because, naturally, in specialization they saw better acts.

If all you had to do in practice was learn an offensive task—or if you're on the defensive platoon, a defensive task—you'd get pretty good at it, wouldn't you?

Sure, but would you have any fun?

Manistique's 'Upset' Team To Try To Upset Strong Soo '5' Tonight

MANISTIQUE, Feb. 3—The Manistique Emeralds, far from looking upon their game here tonight against the powerful Soo Blue Devils as an engagement in which they will play the role of underdog, are ready to meet the U. P. leaders on even terms and are actually looking forward to this evening's tussle.

Manistique is the "upset" team of the U. P., having bumped Neegaunee and St. Joseph's of Escanaba.

This fighting spirit has shown up in practice all week and has been shown by the way the team is handling the ball and in the improved basket shooting.

According to Coach Bob Hussey, this improvement, begotten of grim determination, is particularly noticeable in the work of Dick Burns. Easily the fastest man on the squad and one who has been able to get in more shots than any other player, his shortcoming has been his inability to roll that ball through the hoop. This week he has clicked and the coach has every confidence that he will surprise everyone when the big game is on.

Coach Hussey has been drilling the boys in fundamentals which will eventually pay big dividends. This has been a slow process but the coach is beginning to see where the team will do some tall catching up before the windup of the season.

Tonight's preliminary, which starts at 7 o'clock, is with Grand Marais and not with Cooks as previously stated.

Two Strangers Are Pacing Tucson Golf
TUCSON, Ariz.—(P)—A couple of strangers in the ranks of the touring pros carry a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $10,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

Wally Ulrich, Minneapolis, Minn., and Manuel De La Torre, Chicago, forced their names before the rest of the fraternity yesterday. Both needed only 64 strokes to cover the par 70 El Rio course.

They start out today a scant stroke in front of tournament-favorite Toney Penna of Cincinnati, O., and George Buck, Westport, Conn.

A host of other pros are within easy striking distance. Altogether 47 additional members of the group broke par. Another 16 played in even par.

Co-favorite Jimmy Demaret, Olaj, Calif., is poised close behind the four top men with a first round score of 66. So are half a dozen other thrats.

Skip Alexander, Knoxville, Tenn., who won the event in 1948, is in a group of eight with scores of 67.

U. S. Open champ Dr. Cary Middlecoff, Ormond Beach, Fla., and six others are two strokes under par with 68s.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Demaret are considered the men most likely to win the $2,000 first place money. Snead was unhappy with his score of 69 yesterday which placed him in a 26-way tie for 26th place.

Injured Canadiens Tip Rangers, 4-1; 8 Pts. Behind Wings

(By The Associated Press)

Montreal's Canadiens can take injuries in their stride and win hockey games in the bargain.

The Habitués, sporting an assortment of sore-muscles and backaches, came up with a 4-1 victory over the fifth-place New York Rangers at Montreal last night in the only National Hockey league game.

The victory gave the Canadiens a firm grip on second place with 52 points, eight behind the leading Detroit Red Wings and three ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs.

Colds, wrenched knees and back injuries may have slowed up stars like Kenny Reardon, Elmer Lach and Maurice Richard, but it didn't stop them from setting up goals for rarin'-to-go teammates—namely Big Butch Bouchard, Calum MacKay, Rip Riopelle and Ken Mosdell.

Edgar Laprade ruined ailing Netminder Bill Durnan's shutout when he beat him on a hard shot in the first period.

A Montreal forum crowd of 13,869 saw Canadiens open up the scoring when MacKay tallied in the first period on a perfect pass from Mosdell.

Bouchard's goal—the first for the big defenseman this season—sent Canadiens two up, but Laprade cut the margin before the end of the period.

Montreal scored two goals in the second period. Riopelle got the first on assists from Lach and Richard. Mosdell got the other.

Durnan, backache and all, was called to handle 23 shots against 29 for Chuck Rayner in the New York goal.

Cloverland Is Defeated By Shamrocks

Shamrocks simply had too much power for Cloverland college in a feature Class A Escanaba Basketball league game at the junior high last night. The Sham won by 51-33.

Bob Dufour and Tom St. Germain set the pace with 15 and 14 respectively, while Bob Anderson and Harold Pearson were dunking 10 each for the college boys.

Most interesting game of the night was Mike's Bar "iron man" act (five players the whole game) against Powers. It was a nice show but Powers won, 40-37. Babe Kleiman dipped in 20 for Mike's. Teammate Jim Tobin clicked off eight. Powers' Don Shannon hit 14 points and his teammate Bob Corvieu came through with eight.

VFW beat Groos, 57-40, and People's Bar bumped Clairmont, 56-42. Jim Kessler and Don Lewis had 20 and 14 for VFW. John and Don Hirm had 16 and eight for Groos. Don Ohman and Ken Dufresne hit 16 and 15 for People's, with Don Ashland and John Corcoran getting 17 and 10, respectively, for the Transfers.

Cage Work Curtailed By Skating Events
Because of the Escanaba grade school speed skating races at Royce park tomorrow afternoon, sophomore, junior and senior basketball players will not compete tomorrow afternoon but the morning program will be held as usual. Art Petersen, of the city recreation department, announces.

Hockey league battle at Stambaugh. The game will start at 2:30.

Meanwhile, Gladstone's Indians will try Marquette's new artificial ice at the Palestra in a game against the South Marquette Athletic club Sunday.

Ample evidence that the Stambaugh sextet is in stride was provided by its fine showing last Sunday against the champion Soo Martins. Playing on home ice, they lost to the Martins by only a 2-1 margin, the best showing any team has made against the 1948-49 pace setters.

The Hawks will meet up again with one Earl DeHate, who made himself very unpopular in Delta county a few weeks ago by his tactics against Escanaba and Gladstone. He is the league's self-styled "bad boy" and he goes the limit to maintain his reputation.

On that occasion, Escanaba beat Stambaugh, 3-1, and Gladstone beat Stambaugh, 3-2. The Hawks will try to make it two in a row over Stambaugh.

68 Skiers In 11-Mile Grind At Lake Placid

RUMFORD, Me.—(P)—Sixty-eight skiers started an 11-kilometer (11-mile) grind at 10 a. m. (EST) today to determine both the world champion at that distance and the world combined titleholder.

Twenty-four of the starters competed Wednesday in the combined jump at Lake Placid, N. Y., from where the cross-country events were moved because of a lack of snow.

The remaining 44 skiers, the best runners the post-war world has produced, will be competing for the 18-kilometer title. If any of the athletes competing in the combined are good enough, they can win the running crown, too.

But only the two dozen who jumped at Lake Placid are in contention for the combined title. Simon Slaetvik (or Slattvik) and four Norwegian countrymen grabbed the first five places in the leaping half of the event. Among them is Ottar Gjermundshaug, who was third in the jump and is an outstanding cross country runner. Slaetvik is primarily a jumper.

The combined winner is determined by adding points gained in the jumps with those picked up in the run.

Heikki Hasu of Finland, the Olympic combined champ who was sixth in the jump, was a prime favorite until a recent foot injury began kicking up yesterday. He reinjured it in the jump Wednesday and it may be too much of a handicap today.

In the 18-kilometer run proper, Einar Oestfossen and Nils Karlsson, a pair of Swedes, are the heaviest favorites.

Mary Agnes Wall, the Olympic combined champ who was sixth in the jump, was a prime favorite until a recent foot injury began kicking up yesterday. He reinjured it in the jump Wednesday and it may be too much of a handicap today.

In the 18-kilometer run proper, Einar Oestfossen and Nils Karlsson, a pair of Swedes, are the heaviest favorites.

Mary Agnes Wall Loses International Four-Ball Match

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Defending champions Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas, and Bee McWane of Birmingham, Ala., face a stern test today in the second round of the Women's International Four Ball Golf Tournament at Orange Brook Golf club.

The 1949 winners, hard pressed in the opening round, play Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore and Eileen Stubb of Augusta, Ga., in the second round.

The titleholders defeated Carol Diringer, Tiffin, Ohio, and Mary Agnes Wall, Monomine, Mich., 2 and 1, with a sharp rally on the last nine.

Mrs. Glick and Miss Stubb upset Claire Doran of Cleveland, Ohio, and Margaret Gunther of Memphis, Tenn., 1-up in 20 holes.

The Bauer sisters, Marlene and Alice, from Midland, Texas, eliminated Judy Baker of Lima, Ohio, and Bonny Randolph of Columbus, Ohio, 5 and 4.

Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., and Pat Devany of Grosse Ile, Mich., trimmed Catherine Fox Park of Bloomfield, N. J., and Betsy Rawls of Austin, Texas, 1-up.

FOR
Today a year ago—George Barclay, university of Maryland line coach, was appointed head football coach at Washington & Lee.

Three years ago—Ted Williams signed 1947 contract with Boston Red Sox for reported $75,000.

Five years ago—Phil Raftery, New York Athletic club, won the Wanamaker mile at the Millrose games in 4:13.1.

Ten years ago—Tony Galento knocked out Natie Brown in fourth round at Detroit after flooring him 10 times.

The New York Athletic Club had 123 athletes who scored points for the club in open competition during 1949.

Escanaba will try to chalk up its second win of the season tonight at the expense of the team over which it registered its first win, namely Stephenson. The game will be played at 8:30 in the junior high gym here and will be preceded at 7 by a game between the Eskymo and Eagle reserves.

Mainstays of the Stephenson squad, which tipped Menominee twice this season are Mike Michnick, high scoring forward; Ray Blom, Maurice Larson and Orton Melchior, two other high scorers, Jim Raboin, Harold Pratt, Larry Williams, Ken Hofer and Don Nerat.

Coach Bob Gernand likely will start Michnick and Blom at forwards, Larson at center and Melchior and Hofer at guards.

Coach Steve Baltic will counter with Jim Heiden and Axel Anderson at forwards, Paul Baldwin at center and Buddy Wexler and Warren Johnston at guards.

Officials will be Miles Finnegan of Vulecan and Ray Ranguette of Manistique.

Fast Field In Spartan Track Relays

EAST LANSING—(P)—Some of the strongest squads and biggest names in the college track world will compete here Saturday afternoon and evening in the 23th annual Michigan State relays.

The advance list of competitors for the event includes 391 athletes from 28 colleges and universities.

Only the strongest will survive the afternoon preliminaries and go into the evening competition. Sole finals in the afternoon will be the broad jump and the Michigan intercollegiate one mile relay race.

The Western Conference schools of Illinois, Michigan, Michigan State, Northwestern, Ohio State, Purdue and Wisconsin are among those competing. Other strong squads will be on hand from Darke, Kansas State, Marquette, Michigan Normal, Notre Dame, Oklahoma and Wayne.

Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson will be the referee.

Some of the name stars competing will include:

Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin, regarded as the top college miler.

Charley Fonville, former world's champion shot putter from Michigan, who started his comeback try with a magnificent throw of better than 55 feet last week.

Bill Fleming of Notre Dame, who recently won the Sugar Bowl 120 yard high hurdles event in the sensational time of 13.9 seconds.

Lorenzo Wright, Wayne's Olympic team broad jumper and dash man.

Frutig, Flora Are Picked As Evashevski Aids At Wash. State

PULLMAN, Wash., (AP)—Ed Frutig, former star end at Michigan, and Bob Flora, freshman coach at Michigan State, yesterday were named assistant football coaches at Washington State college.

Frutig gained All-America mention on the 1940 Wolverine team which included Tommy Harmon and Forrest Evashevski. Evashevski was named Monday as head coach at WSC and will report here March 1.

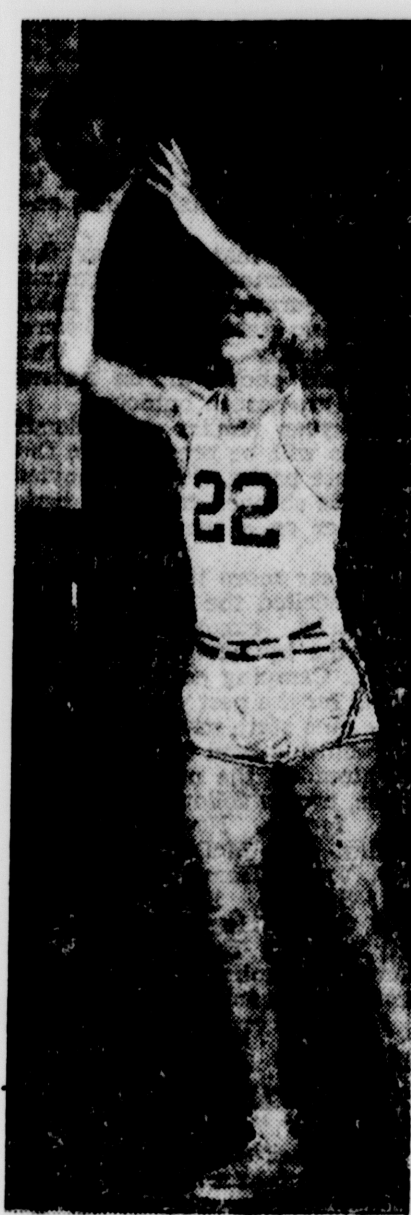

WSC officials said Flora resigned today at Michigan State. He had also been taking work there for a master's degree.

Frutig played professional football for the Detroit Lions of the National league after his graduation from Michigan.

Washington State's two assistant coaches last year, Joe Angelo and Tony Blazine, were let out a few days after Phil Sarboe resigned as head coach.

Norway Vikings Invade Gladstone

Tall Brave

CHIEF CRETIN—Tallest of the Gladstone Braves is six-foot five-inch Phil Cretin, pictured above in his familiar under-the-basket stretch which he uses to good advantage against Gladstone opponents. The supporting cast is a very capable one, but this is the fellow who does the work under the basket both on offense and defense. He'll be seen in action tonight against the Norway Vikings. (Escanaba Press Photo)

GLADSTONE—The Norway Vikings, who only recently held the high-scoring Iron Mountaineers to a 62-61 victory, will invade the Gladstone high school gym tonight to battle Coach Eldon R. Kell's Braves. Gladstone has an 8-1 record to date.

The home five won eight straight before bowing to Ishpeming, 56-48, last week. As a result of Norway's recent play, the Braves have as much respect for the Vikings as they had for the Hematites and aim to go all out tonight to chalk up a win.

Eager to bounce back from that Ishpeming defeat, which marred their record in Great Lakes conference play, and with the added incentive of overcoming the Norway jinx, the game is a "must" on the Braves calendar. In their last five meetings, three of them in tournament play, Norway has tipped the Braves.

Spartans Try Again Tomorrow Night Against Purdue Five

EAST LANSING.—(AP)—Michigan State's down-trodden basketball team hit the road today, hoping to win a game from another loser. The Spartans left by bus for Lafayette, Ind., and a meeting with Purdue Saturday night.

Purdue, which started out strong the first of the season, has lost eight out of its last 10 games. The boilermaker average of six wins and nine losses is still better than the lack-lustre Michigan State record of two won and 13 lost for the season.

Inability to hit the basket has plagued Purdue in recent games. In an early season contest against Bradley the Boilermakers had a sensational 410 shooting average but have declined to a point where only 16 per cent of the shots went in against Notre Dame recently.

The Spartans, composed mostly of sophomores, have a 300-heaven's shooting average to date.

Kiner Calmly Signs 2-Year $65,000 Paper

LOS ANGELES.—(AP)—Home run hitter Ralph Kiner looked forward to a friendly round of golf with some other ball players today, having calmly signed a record two-year contract for $65,000 a season with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

General Manager Roy Hamey of the Pirates, whose business is stalking and pinning down expensive diamond talent, brought the handsome 27-year-old Kiner to heel late yesterday.

Just four days before Hamey had snared the most expensive untied rookie in baseball history when he inked southpaw Paul Pettit, 18-year-old Lomita, Calif., giant, for $100,000.

Ignoring the storm brewed by the Pettit case, Hamey resumed his hunt on the man who hit 54 home runs and drove in 127 runs for the Pirates last year.

Kiner surrendered without a show of a fight, and both he and the Pirate official beamed in mutual agreement over the contract as cameras flashed and the news was duly recorded.

It is the highest price ever paid by the club which has starred such greats as Honus Wagner, Paul and Lloyd Waner, Pie Traynor, a host of others and for a couple of years a man who commanded the next highest salary, Hank Greenberg, at a $60,000 figure.

Pressed for predictions, Kiner said he thought Pittsburgh would finish in the first division, that Brooklyn would be the club to beat for the National league pennant and he just "hoped" he'd have a great year.

Bigtime Football Returning To NYU, Fordham University

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Back in the twenties and thirties, two of the football powers of the nation were Fordham university and New York university. But times changed.

Then, a couple of years ago, Fordham apparently began building what eventually should be a top-notch squad.

Today, although there is no official confirmation, NYU, with the appointment of Hugh Devore as head coach, evidently has decided to try for a renewed place in the football limelight.

Devore, a graduate of Notre Dame and head coach of the Irish in 1945, was appointed yesterday. Professor John F. Sullivan, chairman of the board of athletic control, dropped a hint of things to come.

"The signing of Devore represents one of the important points in the board's general plan to improve the football situation at NYU," he said.

Devore resigned as St. Bonaventure coach Wednesday after a four-year reign.

Since its deemphasis program went into effect, NYU football policies have been very much on an in-and-out basis. NYU's last really good season was in 1935 when it won 7 and lost only one—to Fordham. Its neighborhood rival.

The deemphasis program has prompted many loud outbursts on the part of students and alumni groups.

La Motta Is Going All Out In Detroit Go

DETROIT.—(AP)—Middleweight Jake LaMotta promises to go all out tonight to show the boxing world he can put up a good defense for his crown when it goes on the block next summer.

LaMotta meets Dick Wagner of Portland, Ore., in ten-round non-title bout at Olympia.

The champion, beaten in his only ring appearance since he won his crown from the late Marcel Cerdan of France here last June, has been training seriously for the Wagner match. He relies a 12 to 5 favorite.

His preparations have included 70 rounds of boxing, LaMotta's henchmen said.

Jake's loss—which he blames on ring inactivity—was to another French puncher, tricky Robert Villmain.

LaMotta expects to go into the Wagner fight weighing 165 pounds. He'll be about five pounds lighter than his opponent.

Wagner fought once before in Detroit and was decisively by Nick Barone, who also holds a close ruling over him in Madison Square Garden in New York. Wagner was beaten in the last year by Chuck Hunter of Cleveland as well.

For his efforts tonight LaMotta will draw 35 per cent of a rate expected to be about $40,000. Wagner will get 20 per cent. About 12,000 fans are expected to see the fight.

LaMotta has said definitely he will defend his middleweight title in June, but the place of the bout and his opponent have not yet been determined.

DARTBALL

The Escanaba Daily Press team took it on the chin for the first time in city dartball league play at the Brewery last night. The Birds Eye Local copped two of three from the pacesetters, something unheard of heretofore. The scores were 5-8, 10-4, 19-15.

Eagles No. 2 pulled a surprise in a first game win over Phoenix with only four men and two John Does. Eagles got three hits in the last of the eighth, their only hits of the game, and scored two runs to win, 2-1. Phoenix had made 10 hits.

Here are the scores this week: Women's league—All's defeated L & R, 2-3, 2-0; 2-1; Woodpeckers defeated Bird's Eye, 2-1, 5-4, 3-0; Men's league—Eddy's defeated Birds Eye Maroons, 5-15, 6-3, 3-1; Eagles No. 1 defeated St. Joseph's, 2-6, 7-4, 8-5; Woodpeckers defeated McNeess, 7-3, 3-0, 10-4; Eagles No. 2 defeated Phoenix, 2-0, 2-1, 1-9; Brackett's defeated St. Ann's, 9-6, 2-4, 6-3.

The First Presbyterian church team will meet Phoenix Lumber team in an exhibition game at the dartball center Monday night. Other teams desiring to arrange exhibition games are asked to contact Jerome Deloria.

Weather Holds Up Yukon Hunt

Search Not Given Up For Missing C-54

WHITEHORSE, Y. T., (AP)—"Operation Mike" was weathered down to second gear today.

As the farling arctic hunt for a missing U. S. Air Force C-54 transport and its 44 occupants went into its second week, virtually the entire area was "socked in" by poor flying weather.

Only six planes got into the air here yesterday.

Ten were expected to take off today for the northern portion of the area where clear patches were expected to permit occasional visual contact with the ground. But Air Commodore Martin Costello, search coordinator, ordered pilots to take no chances of cracking up themselves and to return if conditions became too bad.

At Great Falls, Mont., weather permitting, a score of B-29's planned to make a mass sweep along the 2,100 mile route of the missing plane. Five planes searched unavailingly yesterday.

Meanwhile, officers in charge of the joint U. S.-Canada search were losing hope that faint radio signals picked up on the distress band will be of help. Efforts to get a "fix" on their origin have been unsuccessful.

Another report—That of a Beaver Lake, B. C., settler that a large plane flew low over his cabin late last Thursday—was checked by five planes out of Vancouver, B. C. They reported nothing but were to cover the area again. Little connection was seen, however, between the report and the missing plane as Beaver Lake is some 200 miles west of the Alaska highway air route and is west instead of east of the Rockies.

Still unchecked was a report received by the Canadian press from three men who reported hearing an explosion in the vicinity of Fairbairn Mountain, near Carleton Place, Y. T., and some 50 miles south-east of Whitehorse.

The men, each in a different location at the time, said the explosion was heard around the time the U. S. C-54 was due over Whitehorse.

PLEAS WON'T HELP

DETROIT—(AP)—If anyone tries to plead "Grubbs" case, with traffic judge, George T. Murphy, the 58-year-old common pleas court clerk will have reason to regret it. Grubb, president of AFL hotel and restaurant employees Union Local 705, was convicted Thursday of driving while drunk. He has a record of 25 arrests. The judge said he would impose the sentence Feb. 16, and warned Grubb that five days would be added for each plea for leniency.

Parliament Dissolved In Britain Ready For National Elections

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

King George VI is expected to sign the royal proclamation around noon British time dissolving the strongly pro-Labor parliament.

Six Implicated Following Raid On "House" Here

Four persons have been arraigned in justice court here and two more will be brought to court as a result of a raid by Escanaba police on a home at 236 Lake Shore drive, Wednesday night.

State Police of the Marquette and Gladstone post assisted in the raid. Evidence was obtained by sending two special investigators to the establishment with marked money.

Mary Lou Sauers, 28, of 236 Lake Shore drive, pleaded guilty to a charge of being an inmate in a house of ill fame and soliciting an act of prostitution, when arraigned before Judge Henry E. Ranguette Thursday afternoon. She was sentenced to serve 90 days in the county jail.

Catherine M. Shugrue, 49, also of 236 Lake Shore drive, pleaded not guilty to a charge of lewd and lascivious cohabitation when arraigned Thursday. She will appear in justice court at 2 p. m., Feb. 9, along with Anthony F. Groff of 316 South 17th street, who also pleaded not guilty yesterday to a charge of lewd and lascivious cohabitation.

David E. Wilsie, 44, of Pine Ridge, was charged with disorderly conduct as a result of the investigation. He entered a plea of guilty and was ordered to pay a fine of $15 and costs. One other man, 43 years of age, is scheduled for arraignment in justice court today on a disorderly charge.

Also implicated is an Escanaba taxi driver, who will be charged by Escanaba police with disorderly conduct. He will be arraigned at 10 a. m., Saturday. The taxi driver allegedly aided patrons by bringing them to the house and soliciting.

A 10-year-old girl, daughter of one of the inmates, was living at the house on Lake Shore drive. Escanaba police said today they will sign complaint against the mother for child neglect and contributing to delinquency of a minor, before William J. Miller, juvenile judge.

Top Bomb Expert In Britain Held For Atomic Leaks

instructor in physics. He first came to this country in November, 1943, on an atomic mission for the British government and remained in the United States until June, 1946.

After landing at Newport News, Va., he spent some time with the British Ministry of supply office in New York City. Later he was assigned to Washington to the atom plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and to the Los Alamos laboratories which produced the first A-bomb.

Fuchs returned to England and came here again in November, 1947, to attend atomic security conferences with American officials. Shortly afterward he went back to London.

Fuchs' arrest is the first of its kind since the sensational break-up of a Moscow-directed spy ring in Canada four years ago.

The top figure in that case was another British physicist, Dr. Alan Nunn May, also accused of violating the official secrets act while engaged in atomic research in Canada in 1945.

May was sentenced to 10 years in prison by a British court on May 1, 1946, for slipping samples of uranium to a Russian agent.

Husband Admits He Shot Wife To Death

GRAND RAPIDS—(AP)—Langdon E. Angle, Jr., 22, pleaded guilty of second degree murder in superior court today in the shooting to death of his 17-year-old bride, Lenora, last November. Angle fired two revolver bullets into the body of his wife of 10 months as she lay on a sidewalk near their home. He said they had quarreled over her threat to leave him.

Judge Thaddeus B. Taylor delayed sentence.

Duval tried to get out of the way, but he slipped on a patch of snow and he was hit by the trunk of the tree. A large branch crushed his chest and he died shortly afterward in Monroe hospital.

MT. CLEMENS, Mich.—(AP)—When war hero Donald J. Crooks, whose legs are 70 per cent disabled, saw a friend floundering in the Clinton river yesterday, he went to the rescue quickly.

Crooks, 34, crept out on the thin ice and tried to reach out for the victim. For his pains he was bitten several times and finally the ice broke through.

But Crooks was able to grab his friend and hold on as he made his way painfully to shore.

Truman Tax Cuts Under 600 Million

poration income tax and estate and gift taxes with these recommendations:

Collecting $675,000,000 a year more from corporations by raising the present 38 per cent general corporate rate to 42 per cent. However, the 42 per cent levy would apply only to profits in excess of $25,000 a year. Profits under that would be subject only to the present lower rates, which average 23 per cent.

Snyder said this actually would reduce taxes for corporations with incomes between $25,000 and approximately $120,000. The extra yield, he said, would come from less than ten per cent of all corporations.

A large scale revision of estate and gift taxes was proposed to raise an extra $400,000,000.

Snyder suggested putting estate and gift taxes together under rates starting at ten per cent and applying the present top rate of 77 per cent at $3,000,000 instead of $10,000,000. He proposed substitution of a "dual transfer tax system" for the present separate estate and gift taxes.

Plan Broader State Park Service Program In U. P.

Visitors to Upper Peninsula state parks this coming season will find additional service and entertainment programs established as the result of a two-day conference of state park managers that end today in Escanaba.

Glenn Gregg, Marquette, regional supervisor of parks and recreation for the conservation department, said today the meeting was highly successful in uniting plans for the expanded park program.

Attending the meeting were the superintendents from the nine state parks in the Upper Peninsula.

Organization, maintenance and general parks problems were reviewed, and a part of the time was devoted to in-service training for the park managers.

Visitors to the parks in the Upper Peninsula this year will find a program of evening entertainment with films and slides; campfires with discussions of nature and animal lore; and expanded services to make their park stay more enjoyable.

Gregg said that last year the evening entertainment programs were inaugurated at Indian Lake and Gogebic state parks and were enthusiastically received. The movies and slides, all on nature subjects, are screen outdoors.

This year similar educational programs will be presented in the other state parks, with the movies and slides shipped from one park to another on a schedule for the season.

Last year more than 13 million persons visited the 60 Michigan state parks, exceeding the 1948 attendance by nearly one million persons. Camping permits also increased for the past year.

The nine state parks in the Upper Peninsula, and their managers who attended the meeting in Escanaba, are as follows:

St. Ignace, Newman Bergh; Brimley, Bob McDonald; Indian Lake, Victor Haas; Palms Book (Big Spring), David Balbough; Wells, George Hughes; Baraga, Albert Wallin; Tahquamenon, Art Lauren; Porcupine Mountain, Knox Jamison; Gogebic, Alfred Mesini.
